WHY DON'T THE CHRISTIANS HELP?

(By Mrs. Esther T. Housh.)

I shall never forget how all else paled into insignificance before that cry of a soul just on the border of the Heavenly Land, the pleading of a lister beleved. She thought flowers drooped ver. It had no barriers or lights of warning. "There!" she would call, 'the dearest friend I had the harness. The occupants were unhuri. slipped in, and you never tried to stop him; and a boy went over, and you never told him there was a pit there. Can't you save that girl?" sie cried. "Oh! the world goes by, the great thoughtless world, and it jostles people in. Where are the Christians? Why don't the Christians help?"

What can be done to make safe paths for our children? is the great question of to-day. The friends of education are building a wall of knowledge so high that a little child will not climb over to the pit of ignorance. Warning lights are burning all along the way that science trends. Are the Christians as roused to see that the Sunday schools and the churches stand shoulder to shoulder with the teachers on this question?

In some districts the people are to decide whether or not their boundaries shall be freed from the curse of the saloon, the distillery and the brewery, whether a wall shall be built between the home and the enemy of the home, or the pits of temptation still be open to lure unwary feet. In this honr of decision "where are the Christians?" The battle will sharp, and victory must depend much upon the acts and influence of the Christian men and women.

Does the fact of only 200, 00 Christian Women banded together in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to defend the home from the saloon by organized effort-which means right home training, right education of head, heart and hand, and righteous laws enforced, that shall both warn the young feet away from the pits of temptation, and in time take away the temptation itself-touch not your heart, oh, Christian not yet enrolled in the glorious army? Where are the millions of mothers and house-keepers who can arise in the majesty of womanhood ors ?

The emergency of the hour, the knowledge of our national and social danger call for action. To-day we can help; tomeriow it may be too late.
