It Runs from Mantla North to the Port of Dagupan and Is a 3-Foot 6-Inch Gauge. The Manila and Dagupan Railway, the only railway in the Philippine Islands, is running along smoothly as if peace prevailed throughout the land, says the Manila correspondent. Ordinarily railroads suffer as much inconvenience and loss in business and damage as any other line of business at times when comparatively small countries are in a state of rebellion. This loss is not only because of demoralization in freight business and from common disinclination of people to travel where the existence of social disorder creates an adcal Operations on Animals and Re-tail ditional element of risk in travelling on public carriers, but because of des-Dogs with artificial limbs and false truction of railroad property, as a matter of proper warfare and military straclocks and old china and second-hand now occasionally be seen.
