James T. Wilgar Named Registrar
at WLU Effective Jan. 1, 1977

James T. Wilgar, associate registrar at the University of Western Ontario in London, Ont., becomes registrar of Wilfrid Laurier University Jan. 1.

He succeeds Henry H. Dueck, university registrar for the past 12 years, who tendered his resignation in August.

Mr. Wilgar has a long association with Wilfrid Laurier--beginning as an undergraduate student, graduating with a B. A. in 1964. He subsequently took a master's degree in geography from WLU, receiving it in 1972. He was also head resident in a graduate residence, and then worked for the WLU registrar's office for a year as high school liaison officer.

He joined the University of Western Ontario 1970. He currently is secretary of the Ontario Universities Council on Admissions.
