First WLU noon concert
features Schubert, Brahms

Wilfrid Laurier University's regular Music at Noon concerts gets under way a week earlier than planned with the first concert of the season set for Thursday, Sept. 11 at noon in the Theatre-Auditorium on University Avenue.

The concert, with the music of Brahms and Schubert, will feature Gisela Depkat on cello, Alec Catherwood on violin, and Leslie De'ath, piano.

Prof. Boyd McDonald of the Laurier music faculty, said the noon concerts have become a regular community attraction in the Kitchener-Waterloo community.

He said the concerts, given most Thursdays at noon, are free and open to the public, as well as to students and staff of the university. And you are invited to bring your lunch and eat while you listen.
