St. Mary's student wins

German group's trip to Europe

A St. Mary's High School student's proficiency in German has won her a 10-day trip to Germany.

The student, Heike Koester, is this year's winner of a contest among high school students of German, conducted annually by the Kitchener-Waterloo German-Canadian Business and Professional Men's Association.

Koester, of 99 Briar Knoll Drive, Kitchener, scored 90 per cent in a three-part examination, conducted by Prof. Kurt Nabert, associate professor of German at Wilfrid Laurier University, to win the prize.

Runners up in the contest were Isabel Kuxdorf of Waterloo Collegiate; Eric Brandt of Cameron Heights Collegiate; Serena Schlueter of Waterloo Collegiate; and Katherine Rowe of K-W Collegiate.

Walter Guderian, chairman of the contest committee, said the competition, open to all students of German in the Region, is a part of his association's continuing efforts to foster the study of German language and literature.

At a fall meeting of the association, the winning student is asked to report on the trip to Germany, speaking in German.
