Commemorative service to be held at Laurier

A service to commemorate the 14 students killed in the shooting at the University of Montreal will be held at Wilfrid Laurier University on Wednesday, Dec. 13.

The service is being organized by an ad hoc committee of students and faculty.

Christopher Ross, a professor of religion and culture, said the tragedy is something that has especially affected university communities and women there in particular. "It has touched many."

Ross said the service, to begin at 12:15 p.m. in the Concourse of the Central Teaching Building, will include the use of candles and a procession out of doors. Further details of the service will be decided at a meeting Tuesday.
