Yes or No? Quebec referendum the topic at Laurier panel discussions

Waterloo, Ont. (Oct. 20) - Yes or No, in or out - the question of Quebec's future is dominating Canadian political debate.

That's no less so at Wilfrid Laurier University, where three separate on-campus discussions have so far been scheduled around the referendum question. These are:

October 30, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 in the Paul Martin Centre. The Wilfrid Laurier University Political Science Association is presenting a day-of-the-referendum talk/discussion with four knowledgeable faculty members: Prof. Terry Copp, who teaches Quebec history; constitutional and Quebec politics expert Dr. Kathy Brock; Dr. Brian Tanguay, who is very knowledgeable about both Quebec and federal politics; and Dr. Barry Kay, whose areas of interest include political parties and the media. Following presentations by the panelists, the floor will be opened for questions. For more information, contact Political Science Association president Luke Austin at 747-9666.

October 31, at 2 p.m. in room N-1053 of the WLU science building. The chaplains of Wilfrid Laurier University are presenting a panel discussion called "The Day After The Referendum" with Tanguay and Copp. For more information, call chaplain Rev. Val Hennig at 884-0710, Ext. 2739 or 2240.

November 9, from 11:30 to 12:45 p.m. in the Paul Martin Centre. The political science departments of Laurier and the University of Waterloo, together with the political science department at Laurier and the WLU Political Science Association, present "After the Referendum: Whither Quebec and Canada?"

Participants will be Prof. Stephane Dion of the University of Montreal, and Prof. Ken McRoberts of York University. The moderator will be Laurier's Kathy Brock. The contact for this session is Barry Kay at 884-0710, Ext. 3362.
