WATERLOO – Three Wilfrid Laurier University undergraduate finance students — Greg Dean, Steve Groff and Mike Stewart — won the recent inaugural University of Ottawa Finance Society Case Competition.

The competition provided students with the opportunity to demonstrate the finance knowledge, skills and competencies needed to excel in this highly competitive industry.

Student teams were given a specified amount of time on the day of the event to complete their respective cases. They then had 30 minutes to present their findings and solutions to judges. The finals were held during an evening reception before a panel of judges, including a representative of the largest asset manager in the world, Barclays Global Investors.

“We are delighted about this wonderful performance by Laurier business students,” says Laurier dean of business and economics, Ginny Dybenko. “Laurier business students consistently excel at case-study competitions largely due to our unique and integrated business program and innovative teaching methods. Laurier is all about excellence in everything we do.”
