

For Immediate Release
May 27, 2010

Contact:

Maria Locacciatto, Manager: Marketing and Administration,
Laurier Toronto Office
416-306-0866 ext. 5124 or mlocacciatto@wlu.ca

Kevin Crowley, Director: Communications & Public Affairs
Wilfrid Laurier University
519-884-0710 ext. 3070 or kcrowley@wlu.ca

Serial entrepreneur shares insights at Laurier Toronto speaker series

TORONTO – Razor Suleman, founder and CEO of I Love Rewards and a Laurier alumnus, will present Leading a Fast Growth Company as part of a speaker series at the Laurier Toronto office on Tuesday, June 1, starting at 12:30 p.m.

The Laurier Toronto office is located on the main floor of the Exchange Tower at 130 King St. W.

Suleman's talk will cover raising venture capital, leading with vision and values, and how to recruit, retain and inspire great people. His presentation is open to the public.

Suleman, who graduated from Laurier in 1998 and has an entrepreneurial history, is the founder and CEO of I Love Rewards, a high-growth, web-based rewards and recognition program provider. A serial entrepreneur, Suleman started his first business at the age of 15, importing and selling hockey cards. His second business venture was Razor's Edge, a campus branded apparel company that he ran out of his dorm room at Laurier.

To register for the June 1 event, please call 416-306-0866, or email Maria Locacciatto at mlocacciatto@wlu.ca.

About Laurier Toronto

Laurier's Toronto office is located on the main floor of the Exchange Tower building at 130 King St. W. The university's Toronto office supports Laurier's weekend-format MBA program, co-op work terms and employer partnerships, student recruitment, alumni relations, university development activities and government relations.