of Berlin, although enjoying a separate corporation. I arrived at Toronto on Friday evening and immediately set out for Unionville where I again visited Pastor Manner and spent till Saturday afternoon with him. Then I returned to Toronto and was there over Sunday preaching for our St. Paul's congregation both morning and evening. In the morning the congregation was small on account of rain but I had a fine turnout in the evening. At both services I preached at my best and received many compliments. They have a rolled choir there and are in every thing very churchly. I liked the people very much. They are now without a pastor and I think it is likely that I will receive a call from there some time this fall. In case I do it is most likely that I will accept. Toronto is the finest city in Canada and has a population of 420,000. The congregation at present pays a salary of $1200, though out of that the pastor will have to pay a rent of $23 or $25 a month. But they promise to do better than that when they get in good working shape. At Toronto Monday morning I took the steamer for Niagara Falls from which place I sent you post cards. I got back in Toronto about 10 o'clock Monday night and left Tuesday morning for Morrisburg, where I arrived at 3:30 in the afternoon after an interesting ride by rail down the St.
