

Our History

In 1910, the Lutheran Church entered into an agreement to establish a Lutheran Seminary. The majority of Lutherans in Ontario lived in the vicinity of Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), and Waterloo was selected when its citizens offered a tract of land on the boundary of the town. In 1911 the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary of Canada opened its doors. Facilities for pre-theological education were established in 1914 with courses leading to senior matriculation given in Waterloo College School.

In 1924 the Waterloo College of Arts, providing courses in postsecondary education in a four-year program, was established. In 1925 the Faculty of Arts, under the name of Waterloo College, affiliated with the University of Western Ontario. Waterloo College soon began to offer honours degree programs in the arts.

The affiliation with the University of Western Ontario ended in 1960 when the Seminary obtained a revised charter changing the name of the institution to Waterloo Lutheran University.

On November 1, 1973, Bill 178 was given Royal Assent by the Lieutenant Governor, William Ross Macdonald (a former Chancellor), and Waterloo Lutheran University became Wilfrid Laurier University, one of Ontario's provincially funded universities.

The Convocation Ceremony

Convocation is the most solemn ceremony within the university community. Since their beginnings in the Middle Ages, universities have performed this ceremony in order to grant degrees to their students and also to welcome those students into the community of scholars which has trained them.

The conferring of the degree takes place at the moment when the student is greeted by the Chancellor or the President, or other conferring officers of the university, and the officer says "I admit you."

As an outward sign of his or her new state, the student wears a hood. Each degree within a university has a hood of unique colours and trim in order that the student's status may be recognized—indeed every university guards its own set of hoods from use by any other university.

In order to recognize the nature of this event for the students involved, the university asks that parents and friends of the students participating in this ceremony withhold their applause until all members being admitted to each degree have left the dais. Students are asked to remain in their seats while other graduates receive their degrees.

"Veritas Omnia Vincit" —Truth Conquers All

The Academic Degrees

The academic degree is a title conferred on an individual by a university as recognition of the completion of a course of study or for a certain attainment. In Canada the three stages in higher education are represented by the degrees of bachelor, master and doctor. Wilfrid Laurier University is given the authority to grant degrees by the Wilfrid Laurier University Act.

Historically, the master's degree was the only degree offered. In the Middle Ages it was awarded to those scholars who, after a series of examinations, were found intellectually and morally fit to teach. Although we are accustomed to thinking of the bachelor's degree as the original degree, it was initially used to designate master's students progressing toward their final degree. They were thus novices or 'bachelors,' who were given permission to teach beginning students. The bachelor's degree was subsequently established as a first degree, a position it had when Oxford University in England was founded in the 12th century. The degree of doctor, which comes from the Latin word for 'teacher,' was first awarded by the University of Bologna and the University of Paris in the 12th century.

The bachelor's degree is awarded at the honours and general level. An honours degree program emphasizes the acquisition of a broad and deep knowledge of the student's chosen honours subject, including both skill at applying the subject and appreciation of its relation to general knowledge and society. A general degree program emphasizes a balance between an in-depth understanding of the student's major subject and a knowledge and appreciation of other fields. Completion of an honours degree normally takes four years and a general degree, three years.

The master's degree is the second degree in higher education. Students complete concentrated and specialized work at a more advanced level in an academic discipline or professional area. Most course work is within the field of specialization and a research project or thesis is normally required. Some master's degrees provide professional qualifications. The master's degree usually requires one or two years of study after a bachelor's degree.

The doctoral degree is the highest academic degree granted by a university. Candidates for the degree spend several years in the advanced study of a specialized field of knowledge. The capstone of the degree is the doctoral dissertation, an extended work based upon independent research. The dissertation demonstrates the candidate's command of both the subject matter and the exacting methods of scholarship, and makes an original contribution to knowledge.

THE CEREMONY

Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees are conferred by Wilfrid Laurier University in recognition of outstanding scholarly, creative, or professional achievement or distinguished public and community service. The university may grant the following honorary degrees: Doctor of Laws (LLD), Doctor of Letters (DLitt), Doctor of Science (DSc) and Doctor of Divinity (DDiv).

*Detail of the Wilfrid Laurier
University mace*

Wilfrid Laurier University Mace

The mace of Wilfrid Laurier University was officially presented by the Euler family at the 1963 fall convocation in memory of the Honourable W.D. Euler, Senator and the first Chancellor of the university. It weighs 16 pounds and was manufactured by the firm of Henry Birks Limited, Montreal.

The ferrule near the base of the shaft contains ivory from a walrus tusk obtained from Coral Harbour, Northwest Territories. The 10-sided shaft, representing the 10 provinces, merges into the head of the mace which bears the 10 provincial crests. The wood used at the point where the shaft meets the head of the mace is elm taken from the bannister post of Conrad Hall, the original seminary building. Above this are four crests relating to the history of the institution: a crest of Waterloo County, the Luther Coat of Arms, the crest of the Waterloo Lutheran Seminary and the coat of arms of the University of Western Ontario.

The head of the mace is made of maple and bears the Federal Coat of Arms, above which is the monogram of Queen Elizabeth II, during whose reign the university's charter was granted. On the reverse side is the crest of Wilfrid Laurier University and the monogram of King George V, during whose reign the original charter was granted. The top of the mace is a crown, mounted with jewels, symbolizing the authority of the State.

PROCESSIONAL BANNERS

Faculty of Arts

The processional banner of the Faculty of Arts contains a representation of the world as studied by the social sciences and humanities disciplines from individuals to societies, across cultures, and over time. The interrelatedness of the disciplines within the Faculty of Arts is emphasized by the fact that many of these images can represent more than one discipline. Laurier's colours are woven across the top and down the left-hand side of the banner. The bottom left-hand corner contains the flame of truth, representing the unending quest for truth and knowledge encouraged within the Faculty of Arts. The banner for the Faculty of Arts was designed and executed by Sally Gray.

Faculty of Science

The processional banner of the Faculty of Science represents the tree of knowledge, bearing many leaves to suggest the gathering together of many scholars. The blossoms borne by this tree signify the Seven Liberal Arts of the medieval curriculum, from which the contemporary arts and sciences have sprung. The purple and gold of the design are traditional symbols of excellence, accompanied by black and white, the twin constituents of light, symbolic of wisdom, and green, the colour that in our culture most potently symbolizes life. The banner was designed by Nancy-Lou Patterson and made by Isobel R. King. The banner was first designed for the former Faculty of Arts and Science. With the creation of two new faculties, the Faculty of Science adopted the banner as its own.

School of Business & Economics

The processional banner for the School of Business & Economics (SBE) is visually abstract in style, relying on simple geometric shapes, in solid colours, to convey its meaning. The symbolic dualisms of the banner's colour and design are a reflection of the pairings of aims and attributes describing the school: business-economics, research-teaching, community-society, students-staff-faculty, old values-new perspectives, think internationally-act locally. The geometric shapes of the design and the layered construction of the banner pay homage to the quilting culture in the local community.

The bold, blue/green letters, SBE, contrast in colour and value with the background and are easily read, even in low light. The background is evenly divided between Laurier's official colours, purple and gold, and the two colour areas are blended from one to the other in a scattering of small squares over the surface. The superimposed squares shift in colour from purple to blue, and from gold to white, representing the colours associated with business and economics. This method of blending two contrasting colours together is drawn directly from computer technology using a graphics software program that assigns one of two colours to each pixel according to an appropriate algorithm. This results in a smooth blend overall, while retaining interesting unevenness in detail. Variations in surface texture and lustre in the fabrics cause light to reflect from the surface of the banner in different ways, further adding to the overall effect. The banner was designed and made by Ellen Adams.

the Faculty of Music banner*

Faculty of Music

The banner for the Faculty of Music was designed and executed by Ralph Beney, who taught Design for Textile at Laurier. The pinks and reds in the banner reflect the academic colour of music, which was originally scarlet but changed to pink several centuries ago. The bells are universal musical instruments. As rhythm is an essential characteristic of music, the design is rhythmic, lively.

Just as most music is basically abstract, in the sense that it does not represent other objects, the design of the banner is basically abstract. Still, just as we can hear references to birds and storms and other things in music, we can imagine that the panels of the banner represent the keys found on French horns and keyboard instruments, and that the circles represent cymbals or drums, and possibly references to musical notational symbols. The important representation, however, is of the rhythmic vitality of music.

Faculty of Social Work

Designed by Ralph Beney in 1994 for the Faculty of Social Work, whose academic colour is yellow, the representational banner conveys an interconnecting relationship between individuals and their communities, constituting our dynamic and complex society.

The Faculty of Social Work's caring and warm environment is conveyed by means of an ongoing, forward-moving open system, centred on people and their needs.

Faculty of Graduate Studies

The Faculty of Graduate Studies encourages interactive and collegial learning by fostering independent thinking and self-creation in a mentoring environment. The banner, designed and created by Ralph Beney, includes the colours in the hoods and gowns worn by graduate students at convocation. Arranged in an upwardly, forward-looking and dynamic “pyramid of learning,” the interaction of the colours represents the potential for interdisciplinary study at the graduate level. The pyramid symbolizes graduate studies as the capstone of the formal learning process.

Waterloo Lutheran Seminary

The Waterloo Lutheran Seminary processional banner presents a “cosmic christology” in visual form. By Word and Wisdom, God creates the cosmos, makes a covenant with humankind as conscious members of that cosmos, and redeems creation in fulfilment of that covenant. The theme of the banner is the biblical affirmation “The just shall live by faith,” which parallels the Seminary motto, “By faith we walk.” The banner was designed by Nancy-Lou Patterson and quilted by Helen Weber.

The border consists of alternating blocks signifying Justification and Faith. Using the Seminary’s school colours, the blocks signifying Justification combine a gold cross and a maroon ground. Faith is signified by blocks in rainbow colours, recalling the promise of God in Genesis 9:17: “This is the sign of the covenant that I have established between me and all flesh that is on earth.” The interlocking relationship between creator and creation is symbolized by the cross which links the earth to the cosmos. God makes contact with humankind through the Word, Christ, and through the sacraments which are signified by the stream of blue water flowing from the cross (baptism), and by the stream of red blood also flowing from the cross (holy communion). This is placed on a field of 12 stars symbolizing holy Wisdom.

The Laurier Society

The Laurier Society is an umbrella organization that recognizes all individual donors to Wilfrid Laurier University. Within the society there is a range of annual recognition levels from less than $100 to more than $10,000 as well as recognition for lifetime giving and planned giving. Private donations help the university to enhance the learning experience for students by funding many needs, including classrooms and computer labs, library books, visiting lecturers, scholarships and bursaries, and athletic programs and facilities.

Wilfrid Laurier University Alumni Association

The more than 50,000 graduates of Wilfrid Laurier University and its predecessors are members of the Wilfrid Laurier University Alumni Association (WLUAA). The WLUAA, a volunteer driven, non-profit organization, is the official body representing WLU alumni. The elected Board of Directors is representative of all academic faculties and many different decades.

The WLUAA supports Wilfrid Laurier University with revenue from alumni services, such as group home, auto and life insurance, an affinity credit card and financial services. WLUAA revenues help to fund alumni programs, university projects, student groups, scholarships, homecoming and Laurier Campus, the alumni magazine.

The mission of the WLUAA is:

To foster alumni interaction with the students, the university, and the community; to promote active alumni participation in the affairs of the university; to assist in securing the university as an independent institution; and to enhance the university's profile as a small institution committed to academic excellence.

The Honourable Bob Rae, P.C., O.C., Q.C.

*The Honourable
Bob Rae*

The person nominated to become the sixth Chancellor of Wilfrid Laurier University is an international figure, known as a lawyer, human rights advocate, politician, supporter of the arts and spokesperson on issues affecting Canadians. He is a committed amateur musician, weekend sportsman, and has even made a film for the history channel on the life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Bob Rae. Twenty-first Premier of Ontario. Leader of the Ontario New Democratic Party from 1982 to 1996. Today, a partner with the Canadian international law firm of Goodmans LLP, with clients that include companies, trade unions, charitable and non-governmental organizations and governments themselves.

Mr. Rae is the son of a diplomat. Public policy and public service were the stuff of his early years; the issues of today—globalization and the role of Canada in the world—the subjects of dinner-table discussions. It was not long after he earned his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws degrees from the University of Toronto and a Bachelor of Philosophy from Oxford University (he was a Rhodes Scholar from Ontario in 1969), that Mr. Rae, too, found his way to public life. He was first elected in 1978, at the age of 30, beginning a distinguished political career that spanned almost two decades, saw him elected eight times to federal and provincial parliaments, and culminated in his becoming Premier in 1990. During his term as Premier, his government pursued an ambitious social program. It passed employment equity legislation and strengthened environmental protections. It invested in affordable housing, child care, job creation and training. Mr. Rae was extensively involved in constitutional discussions leading up to the drafting of the Charlottetown Accord in 1992, and was also responsible for an historic statement of relationship between the government of Ontario and the First Nations people of the province that was signed in October 1991.

His service to community and country did not end with his retirement from politics. He is tireless in his pursuit of social justice, and has dedicated himself to building a vibrant and prosperous Ontario and Canada. His interests are broad: the arts – he is chair of the Royal Conservatory of Music and the Toronto Symphony Orchestra; business – he serves on the boards of numerous major corporations; politics – he is chair of the Canadian Unity Council and the Institute for Research on Public Policy; and health care – he recently served as the chief negotiator of the Canadian Red Cross Society in its restructuring. He is the national spokesperson for the Leukemia Research Fund and a trustee of the Pierre Elliot Trudeau and the Justin Eves foundations.

And Mr. Rae's reach extends beyond our nation's borders. He is president of the Forum of Federations and served as co-chair of the Mount Tremblant Conference on Federalism in 1999, attended by the presidents of the United States and Mexico. He acted as an advisor on federalism and constitutional issues to the government of Sri Lanka and the rebel group, the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam, is a member of the International Council of the Asia Society, and is on the international commercial arbitrators list of the Canadian Council for International Business.

Mr. Rae was named a Queen's Counsel in 1984, appointed to Her Majesty's Privy Council for Canada in 1998 and named Officer of the Order of Canada in 2000. He has received honorary doctorates from the Law Society of Upper Canada, the University of Toronto, Assumption University and Huntington University. He is the author of two books, From Protest to Power: Personal Reflections on a Life in Politics and The Three Questions: Prosperity and the Public Good, as well as numerous articles and speeches on labour and employment law, public and constitutional law, political theory, and leadership.

He is married to Arlene Perly Rae and they have three daughters: Judith, Lisa and Eleanor.

It is with a sense of delight that we welcome so humane and widely respected a sixth Chancellor.

Installation of the Chancellor

The President and Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Robert G. Rosehart, will preside until the Chancellor is installed in office.

The President and Vice-Chancellor will announce the appointment and administer the oath of office.

"Will the Chancellor-designate please rise."

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I have great pleasure in presenting the Honourable Bob Rae who has been duly appointed by the Board of Governors, with the concurrence of Senate, as Chancellor of this university."

"I call on Dr. Rowland Smith, Vice-President: Academic, to read the citation."

Dr. Rowland Smith will read the citation and then Dr. Robert G. Rosehart will continue.

"Do you therefore, Bob Rae, assume the function and office of the Chancellor of this university and do you pledge yourself to keep and preserve well and faithfully, during your period of office, the statutes, liberties, customs, rights and privileges of the university, and to promote its well being and that of its members so far as in you lies?"

The Chancellor-designate will reply:

"I, Bob Rae, undertake in the strength which God shall give me, to perform to the best of my ability the duty of Chancellor of Wilfrid Laurier University; and I promise, as the highest academic officer of this university, to defend its rights and promote its welfare."

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2003

The President and Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Robert G. Rosehart, will install the Chancellor-designate in the office of the Chancellor.

"As chair of the Senate and as Vice-Chancellor of the university, I now install you, Bob Rae, in the office of the Chancellor, and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Senate and the Board of Governors, charge you with the responsibilities which appertain to that high office."

"I now request that Mr. James Butler, Vice-President: Finance and Administration, and Mr. Arthur Stephen, Vice-President: University Advancement, robe you in the official gown and cap of the university. Mr. Bryce Walker, chair of the Board of Governors, will present you with the citation and certificate of office."

The Bedel, Dr. Anna Ferenc, Associate Professor of Music, will present the mace of the university to the Chancellor.

"Mister Chancellor, I hereby present to you the mace of Wilfrid Laurier University and ask that you accept it as a symbol of your authority."

The Chancellor will accept the mace.

"I accept the mace and ask that you place it in position before me to signify the commencement of convocation."

After the mace has been placed in position, the Chancellor will declare the convocation to be in session.

Inaugural Address

The President and Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Robert G. Rosehart, will ask the Chancellor to address the convocation.

*"As for you who stand today on the threshold of life, with a long horizon open before you for a long career of usefulness to your native land...
I shall remind you that already many problems rise before you:
problems of race division, of creed differences, of economic conflict, of national duty and national aspiration. Let your aim and purpose, in good report or ill, in victory or defeat, be so to live, so to strive, so to serve as to do your part to raise even higher the standard of life and of living..."*

— Sir Wilfrid Laurier
