

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY OF WATERLOO LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

The Annual Meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of W.L.U. was held in the Theatre Auditorium on Campus on September 30, 1970, commencing at 10.00 a.m.

Senior Seminarian Thomas Graham led the devotions with the reading of Psalm 133. In his message he said "His word is poetry, his poetry is wisdom; Behold how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell along in unity, for such is the will of God". The pianist was Mr. Garth Mailman, a first-year Seminarian.

Mrs. Hachborn welcomed the members and friends of the Auxiliary, also a representative of the Women's Association, Mrs. L. Schaus.

Dr. P. Basil Healey, Vice-president Academic, brought greetings from the University.

Greetings from the Seminary were brought by Dr. Delton J. Glebe, Acting Dean of the Seminary. He mentioned that 15 new students entered the Seminary this year; this brings the total enrolment to 37, including one woman.

The president, in her report, stated that 67 quilts, 25 sheets, 8 blankets, 25 pre. pillowcases, 2 mats and $25. for the purchase of sheets were received. During the year 7 Executive meetings were held. She presented Gift Certificates to 3 Seminary Graduates. She said "1970 starts a new decade and will be remembered by many different people for many different reasons. For us who are here today, signifying our interest in this learning centre, 1970 will be remembered as the year that Willison Hall, the original building of Waterloo College, was demolished. It had provided a familiar landmark on Albert Street for almost 60 years". She said that her four years as president were made easier because of the support of her Executive and University personnel, as well as members of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Hachborn paid tribute to the late Dr. U. S. Leupold who had shown great interest and given assistance to the Women's Auxiliary over the years.
