My dear Aunt

I cannot reply to thy more than interesting favor of the 9th inst, which reached me within due course of postal commu =nication — Since that time Emily has been here for a few days and I just returned from Toronto last evening. I visited that city to sit and sustain Emily during her trial of persecution

Mrs. Wm. H. Slaughter

It is terrible to see how vile some men are ~~are~~ at heart, & of course you are familiar through the papers with the prosecuting side which failed to find a case after continuing it nearly two days - It is far more complimentary to Emily to have it dismissed before the defence or coming to the jury - but it would have been far more satisfactory to have had her defence published - for she had all of the Press in the medical profession and they would have rebutted the evidence of those "quodles" & the professions that was heard for the Crown - They tried long & hard to make a case - Even the Crown attorney was contemptable - But the old Scotch Judge saw through them & would have ended it the first day only for Dr Bull's testimony - Every one says it has not lost a friend for Emily and made lots of new ones - I remained two days after and it was one constant reception, the door bell ringing every minute, and several letters They will find they cannot hang one of the Jennings family quite so easily I hope Emily will write you more minutely about it than I can - Many think that the Crown Attorney will lose his situation by it also the Coroner - I sincerely hope they will The Ladies wish to give Emily a reception but she declines

Thy letter was very beautifully written and the sentiment fine & feel sorry that I am unable to reply properly to it - but this matter is so strongly fixed uppermost upon my mind and prepared for time, having to with Mother Ellie Emily, Howard Duncan &c &c today, my hand is more than tired & prepare for moving to morrow & next day, and found a great number of letters last evening upon my return Therefore Hope to pardon this hasty scribble, fearing that it might be prolonged too long if I waited until after moving and settling &c &c I move on the same block two doors - with much & sincere love

P.S. When I see thy last I could not help thinking how much more quiet & resigned mind was in thy home than Emily's not withstanding the surroundings

even believe me thy affectionate Sister Eliza
