Dear Mother:

Your most welcome and highly interesting letter of the 10th inst. was received in due time and was read with pleasure. As I am going to Hespeles again to-night, I thought I had better write to you this afternoon than wait till I get back to-night. This will be my last service at Hespeles, as their new pastor is coming next Sunday. I will thereafter have no regular place to go, but am booked for Sherwood - Unionville on the coming Sunday. I am sending you with this mail a copy of the College Cord just out this last week. The article on the Reformation signed "L." I swear I wrote it in such a hurry and gave so little thought to it that I didn't feel like signing my full name; but the Editor thought it was O.K. and I let him publish it. The MacLean's which I sent to Peed last week, was in a rather battered condition. This was due to Florence who has a perfect mania for pulling things down off the table and making sausage or mince meat out of them. Her bump of destructiveness is large at this stage of the game. But she is lively and hearty and good-natured, and
