Dear Mother:

As I am at home to-day and not overly rushed with work, I will give you a few moments of my time this afternoon.

We had rain nearly every day last week, but to-day is bright and clear. I was down at Church this morning for the first time in quite awhile - about the 3rd time this year I think. I will probably get down again next Sunday morning, but will miss the joint-Reformation service here in the evening, as I am to preach a Reformation sermon in Brantford that night. I am still taking my daily swim, but since the water has got pretty cold I no longer swim across the dam, but cut it short when I have cooled off sufficiently. Dr. Schorten got back from Erie on Tuesday and relieved me of my Housefather job. He reported a nice convention, but said it was a rather slow-moving body which did not accomplish as much as it might. The convention did one good thing: it kept the "Institutional Supervisor" from nosing around our institution. I understand
