

Kevin Crowley, Director
Communications & Public Affairs, Wilfrid Laurier University
519-884-0710 ext. 3070 or kcrowley@wlu.ca

APRIL 15, 2015 | 074-15

LAURIER EXPERT ALERT: India-Canada Relations

WATERLOO – Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi will arrive in Toronto on April 15, marking the first bilateral visit by an Indian prime minister in more than four decades.

The following Laurier expert is available to comment on a variety of topics regarding India-Canada relations:

Margaret Walton-Roberts, associate professor in Laurier's Geography department and associate dean of the School of International Policy and Governance and the Balsillie School of International Affairs, is an expert on the Indian diaspora in Canada and the issues of Indian international students in Ontario. Contact information: mwaltonroberts@wlu.ca or at 226-772-3138.

Areas of Expertise:

- India-Canada immigration
- India-Canada educational connection in higher education
- International students from India in Ontario
- Indian diaspora
- Indian-Canadian social and economic connections

– 30 –