

matters change, I will be glad to write you again, should I not have this pleasure I hope your trip will be a pleasant one and that you will enjoy your stay abroad

With kind regards,

Believe me

Yours sincerely,

Alfred Cunningham King

Ottawa, May 2-1911

Dear Mrs. Hoffman:

I wish it were possible for me to say what plans for the summer it is going to be possible to make. Unfortunately all of us are uncertain at the moment as to how long Parliament will continue of me in connection with your house. The arrangement you speak of, which would include the housekeeper would be an ideal one for me were I in a position to make a definite engagement, but my movements being necessarily dependent on what happens in and with Parliament

I have unhappily no alternatives but to write as I do. If before you leave for England in session, we may be here two months or four longer, or it may be two weeks or four. It looks to me as if it would be well to enter the summer,

under the circumstances

I feel I cannot ask you to delay any of your arrangements on my account though I am more than deeply obliged to you for your kindness in thinking
