Menotti's Comic Opera

To Star WLU Affiliate Artist

Menotti's famous comic opera, The Telephone, will be performed next week for an audience of university wives and their husbands and will star Waterloo Lutheran University's affiliate artist, Eileen Shelle.

Appearing with Miss Shelle in the 30-minute spoof at the problems of modern romance will be the talented Keith Knights, a member of the WLU Choir who recently was chosen to appear in an all-star chorus in the United States.

Sponsoring the presentation, to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Room 1E1 of the arts building, is the Waterloo Lutheran University Womens Association. Special guests will be members of the University of Waterloo Faculty Wives Association and husbands of the members. A buffet supper will be served following the program.

Two other performances will be given, announced Walter Kemp, director of the WLU music department. On Monday a performance will be presented for the students of WLU at 7:30 p.m. in Room 1E1 of the arts building. The performance will be repeated Tuesday for a regular session of an English class at 7:30 p.m. Prof. Kemp will lecture prior to the performance on music and media.
