CHAUNCEY A. HYATT, NEW TRIER SWIMMING COACH

Chauncey A. Hyatt, University of Wisconsin Class '12. Developer of Champion Swimmers. Formerly Coach of Aquatics and Physical Training Instructor, U. of W.

New Trier athletes have made for themselves an enviable reputation as leaders in aquatic sports, the past few seasons, competing, individually and collectively, in many contests and almost without exception outswimming their rivals with ease. This success in water sports is due to the exceptional training New Trier boys receive from Aquatic Coach Chauncey A. Hyatt, an acknowledged master in the tank and one of the best handlers in the country, today.

C. A. Hyatt came to New Trier High school from the University of Wisconsin, where he had been a student, specializing in physiology and physical education, and later an instructor in the department of physical education. Prior to taking up athletics Mr. Hyatt spent two years in the College of Engineering preparing himself for the profession of forestry, deciding eventually, however, that forestry as a life work did not appeal to him.

During his sophomore year Mr. Hyatt entered the only intercollegiate competition of his career, representing his Alma Mater in the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic meet held at the University of Minnesota where he was awarded an emblem for excellence at tumbling and club swinging. The director of athletics at the Badger university recognized in Mr. Hyatt great possibilities as an athlete and at the end of his sophomore year offered him a position as an assistant instructor in the athletic department.

Accepting this offer, Mr. Hyatt abandoned the ranks of the amateur athlete and entered the field of sports as a professional. During his first year as a coach he had no connection with swimming but his excellent physique of 6 foot 1, together with the 195 pounds of "beef" he carried, rendered him peculiarly adapted to water sports and the natatorium of the university found him a frequent visitor with the result that interest was aroused and he was not long in becoming an exponent of aquatic pastimes.

At the end of his junior year Mr. Hyatt was called into the office of the director of athletics and offered the directorship of the department of aquatics. Mr. Hyatt accepted and entered into swimming in dead earnest. During the vacation season Mr. Hyatt came to Chicago for special coaching in aquatics. Hard work under such renowned authorities as Cavill, Bacharach and White sent him back to Madison in the fall with a fund of knowledge relative to water sports that made of his first year as swimming coach an unqualified success.

Hyatt-coached swimming teams twice defeated Northwestern and Chicago and his water-polo teams took honors from Chicago twice and secured an even break with Northwestern. His second year at Wisconsin was equally successful. He developed Herbert Taylor who, during that year, made two National intercollegiate records, one of which, for the 200-yard breast stroke, time 2:45 2-5, still stands. The other, a back stroke record, now belongs to Pavlicek, University of Chicago, '16, who holds the world's 150-yard back stroke record and swims for the Illinois Athletic club.

Taylor, the find of Hyatt, also has the distinctive honor of being the only swimmer to ever defeat McDermott, world's breast stroke champion, in the 100-yard breast stroke swim. Much of the credit for this success properly belongs to Coach Hyatt for he personally collected funds with which to send Taylor to Chicago, besides inspiring within him the courage to enter the lists against a world champion and Olympic contestant.

During Mr. Hyatt's third year as swimming instructor at the university, Wisconsin swimmers engaged in a dual meet with Northwestern university water stars at Patten gymnasium. It was here that Hyatt's work attracted the attention of Principal H. E. Brown and Athletic Director W. L. Childs of New Trier High school, who were among the spectators. The New Trier authorities had just completed an ideal natatorium and were seeking to engage the best possible man for coach of aquatics. Naturally, it did not take long to engage the services of Mr. Hyatt.

From his first day as swimming coach at New Trier Mr. Hyatt has met with success. He has developed many excellent swimmers and former New Trier men may be found upon many of the swimming teams of colleges and athletic clubs throughout the country.

Besides his swimming interests, Mr. Hyatt has assisted with soccer football, golf and other athletic activities. His ability in these fields has been recognized and Mr. Hyatt is chairman of the golf and soccer committees as well as of the Suburban High School Conference committee. This season an especial honor has been conferred upon him by his appointment to the advisory committee on swimming rules of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Summer activities at New Trier, consisting mainly of swimming with some playground and outdoor work, are in charge of Mr. Hyatt. His experience in the latter fields was acquired in the South Park playgrounds under former Superintendent E. B. DeGroot, now in charge of physical training in the schools of San Francisco. Mr. Hyatt was most successful in playground directing, which occupied his summer vacations, and two years ago passed the civil service examination for assistant superintendent of the South Park playgrounds.

Mr. Hyatt has officiated at nearly every A. A. U. championship meet of the past five years. Although, as he himself puts it, he has "never broken anything stronger than a phonograph record," Coach Bacharach at one time predicted much for him as an amateur and Coach White of the University of Chicago made the statement that he would be Conference breast stroke champion, not knowing at the time that he was training a coach, instead of a swimmer, for a rival university.

Incidentally, Mr. Hyatt, while at the University of Wisconsin, unofficially broke the record for strength held by "Roos," the Yale strong man. He is officially credited in the university records with a leg lift of 595 kilos or 1,395 pounds, made during his junior year. The former record was 450 kilos or 990 pounds. More power to Hyatt and greater power to New Trier swimmers.

NEW TRIER WATER DOGS CLEAN MILWAUKEE BOYS

Invade German Village Saturday and Capture All Before Them—Natives Astonished at Plunge Exhibit.

New Trier swimmers invaded Milwaukee Saturday morning, took a stroll around that little German village, assaulted the Y. M. C. A. natatorium Saturday evening, scalped the Y. M. C. A. all-star swimmers to the tune of 44 to 24 and returned home well satisfied with the success of the trip. George Schaefer, National Inter-scholastic plunger, astonished the Milwaukee burgers with an exhibition before the serious work of the evening was undertaken.

A TRUTH THAT NEVER DIES

Time has demonstrated that there is no joy, no comfort, no sweetness, no pleasure in the world like that of a good wife. She is the same in health and in sickness, the husband's eye, his hand, his bosom friend, his partner at all times, his other self, not to be separated by any calamity, but ready to share all sorrow and discontent, to live and die with him; nay more, to die for him.

JUST A LITTLE JOKE

Heard at the Friday night swimming meet—Announcer. "Professor R. E. Angel will act as timer for the high-dive contest."

Voice from audience. "Light occupation—Angel timing high dives."

STUDENT COUNCIL IN SESSION

Pass Resolution Providing Penalty for Members Absent from Meetings.

It was suggested at the Monday meeting of the Student Council that a waste basket be placed at the end of each table in the mess hall, in addition to the present tray racks, as a depository for paper, string and other refuse. Miss E. E. Packer made a report on the progress made in the rejuvenating of the literary room and a resolution was passed providing that a member of the Council absent from two meetings in succession shall voluntarily resign membership, unless a satisfactory excuse for such absence shall be offered.

WARNING
REPRESENTATIVES and agents of various carpet and rug cleaning establishments are canvassing the villages of Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka and Glencoe, soliciting orders for their firms.
In some instances they are endeavoring to enlist the services of local organizations, such as women's clubs, church societies, etc., offering as an inducement a certain percentage of the prices charged.
We feel it incumbent upon ourselves to warn all housewives, home-owners, clubs and societies against these itinerant cleaners. It has been the experience of many that the work turned out is unsatisfactory and the price charged not equitable, but based upon the value of the rug or carpet cleaned. Some cases have been reported where expensive floor coverings have been returned in a mutilated condition and as soiled as when handed to the cleaners.
Experience is an essential in the proper cleaning of high class carpets and rugs, and such work should be entrusted to those only who can and will guarantee absolute satisfaction in every respect.
