

NEW TRIER FRESHMEN SWIMMING MARVELS

THE Freshmen class that entered New Trier High School last September has among its members four of the fastest swimmers to be found in any High School in the West. Three of the quartet swam on the Wilmette Grammar School championship team and were members of the 160-yard relay squad that made the National Grammar School record of 1:46.4-5, still standing.

The other member, Spear Knebel, came from Boston, Mass., and entered New Trier with but slight knowledge of swimming. He took to the water naturally, however, and was soon singled out as a swimmer of promise.

Wallace Reid, Spear Knebel, Jack Robbins, Kenneth Kerr

Under thorough and energetic coaching he has developed into one of the best of New Trier's water dogs and now holds two Amateur Athletic Federation Junior records—22.3-5 seconds in the 40-yard swim and 28.4-5 seconds in the 40-yard back stroke. Knebel also holds the honor of being the highest individual point swimmer participating in the Junior A. A. F. championships, with a total of ten points, making two firsts and setting a new record in each.

Spear holds also the Western Junior High School records in these two events besides being a member of the Junior Relay Freshman team that holds the National Junior record of 1:30.4-5 for 160 yards. In addition he is a member of the six-man 240-yard relay team that set the mark at 2:09 and of the ten-man 400-yard team, holding the title with 3:50, both National High School records for distance.

Coach Hyatt of New Trier obtained for Knebel an athletic membership in the Illinois Athletic Club, the organization that numbers among its membership the champion swimmers of the National Athletic Association Union, and he occasionally practices in the same pool with Hebner, McGillivray, McDermott, Handy and other world champions. Knebel is also a student of exceptional quality and stands at the head of his class with almost a complete record of A's. He is representative of the highest type of young manhood.

Jack Robbins has won so many ribbons and medals that he has lost track of them. The son of an athlete, he was fortunate in getting an early start. From the age of 10 years he has been in all available competitions for boys of anywhere near his age. During the Summer he has garnered the lion's share at all sports, while away at camp, and for several seasons has won the Evanston Y. M. C. A. medal for the best Junior swimmer.

Robbins specializes on the crawl stroke, but is able to hold his own in other events. He also has been given an athletic membership at the Illinois Athletic Club and Coach Bacharach predicts for him a bright future as a swimmer. His crawl stroke is almost an exact copy of Perry McGillivray's and swimming critics all agree that he has the best form of any young High School swimmer in the district. Robbins is the same age as Knebel—14 years.

Kenneth Kerr and Wallace Weld are the two remaining members of the quartet. Kenneth learned to swim without assistance when 10 years old in a small lake in Indiana. He has captured a number of ribbons and prizes at Y. M. C. A. meets, specializing in the back stroke and holding his own at the crawl. Kenneth is also a real student and believes his studies are the main reason for his presence at New Trier. He will be heard from in the aquatic world unless the prediction of his coach hits a snag.

Wallace Weld, a brother of Roger Weld, former captain of the New Trier swimming team and one time suburban breast stroke champion, bids fair to eclipse the reputation of Roger as a swimmer. He holds the Junior Suburban High School record in the 40-yard swim with time of 22.4-5; has been in all the relay events and helped to make numerous Interscholastic records. He is an erratic swimmer, showing occasional bursts of speed that keep his teammates guessing.

These four boys do not smoke, as many boys do, but are clean cut examples of what clean living and earnest endeavor will accomplish. They will no doubt furnish New Trier with another Interscholastic champion team next year and again in their Junior and Senior years.

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD ENLIST TO BATTLE FLIES

Disease Carrying Insects Must Be Killed Off as Protection to the Family, Home and Village.

Every man, woman and child in our community should begin at once fighting our common enemy, the common fly.

Flies are the filthiest and deadliest of all insects. They breed in filth, feed on filth and distribute filth—the filthiest kind of filth.

From a privy vault, a garbage can, a decaying animal, a consumptive's spittoon or other filthy thing they go direct to your dining table and wipe their filthy feet on your food. When you eat that food you eat disease-laden filth.

Flies distribute disease and death. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, diarrheal diseases and other "catching" sicknesses are spread by flies.

Kill the flies or they may kill you. The best way to swat flies is to swat their breeding places. Do it early.

To Prevent Flies.

Keep stable manure in tightly closed pits. Sprinkle ordinary borax over manure, one-half pound to each six bushels of manure, or sprinkle freely with sulphate of iron solution, two pounds to each gallon of water. Also sprinkle this around pits, in crevices and under barn floors if possible.

Keep privy screened. Sprinkle borax or kerosene over contents of vault, daily. Bury or burn all animal or vegetable matter before decomposition begins. Permit no dirt accumulations anywhere.

NO DIRT—NO FLIES.

One stable in which a horse is kept will supply house flies for an entire neighborhood, unless the manure is properly cared for.

Kill Flies Now.

Now is the essential time to kill the few flies which have hibernated, as each pair beginning to breed now may produce billions of descendants during the Summer, provided they can find suitable filth in which to hatch and raise the maggots.

If every resident would keep his premises so free from filth that flies could find no breeding places, then there would be no flies.

We can be just as free from flies during August and September as we are at the present time, if we choose to do so. This is no mere theory or untried experiment, as this freedom from flies is accomplished in many communities, especially in some foreign countries where screening against flies and mosquitoes is unnecessary and unknown. Kill flies as fast as they appear. Use swatters, sticky papers, poisons and traps.

FORD CAR COLLIDES WITH PAINT WAGON; 5 HURT

S. F. Burden of Evanston and Four Men Bruised and Cut—Auto and Driver Receive Minor Injuries.

S. F. Burden, a painter of Evanston, and four men narrowly escaped serious injury when the wagon in which they were riding was struck late last Thursday afternoon by a speeding Ford machine at Linden Avenue and Fifth Street, Wilmette.

The wagon was hurled bottomside-up on the parkway and the men thrown to the street, receiving a number of bruises and cuts. Clarence Bruner was the most severely injured of the five, having several ugly cuts about the head and being so badly bruised that he could not stand erect. The machine and its driver received minor injuries.

The machine, according to Burden, bore down upon them on the wrong side of the street, coming along Linden Avenue. To avoid a collision, Burden attempted to drive straight ahead on Fifth Street, but the wagon was struck before he could drive out of the way.

PLAY, "GOLDEN JUBILEE," PLEASES VILLAGE FOLK

Woman's Society of Congregational Church Holds Second Annual Dinner and Entertainment.

The second annual dinner of the Congregational Church, given by the Woman's Society at Community House, Wednesday evening, was undoubtedly one of the most successful and enjoyable social events of the year. This was a birthday dinner and twelve tables were artistically and appropriately decorated to represent each month of the year.

Following the dinner a clever play, "The Golden Jubilee," written by Mrs. L. Harrison Mettler and her committee, was presented by the members of the society. Miss Constance Tyrell, dressed in a quaint, artistic costume, heralded each of the five scenes. The first scene depicted the organization of the W. B. M. I. fifty years ago in the days of hoop skirts, paisley shawls and poke bonnets. Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Prouty, Mrs. Gordon, Miss Mills, Miss Gemmill, Mrs. Alton, Mrs. Linn, Mrs. Snell, Mrs. Harold and Mrs. McLain, dressed in unique costumes of costly silks and old laces, composed the cast.

Traveling with Mrs. Goble and Mrs. VanDuersen, the audience was then taken to a missionary school in Canton, China. Mr. Davies, representing a Chinese police magistrate, appeared in this scene appropriately costumed.

The fourth scene showed a modern solicitors' meeting of today, very modern indeed, with Mrs. Prouty making the usual excuses to Mrs. Lieber for being detained at a committee meeting. In keeping with the usual afternoon programs at such meetings today, Miss Katherine Green was presented and sang some very pleasing solos.

The play closed with a scene in a modern schoolroom, showing the pupils studying their missionary lesson.
