FORD SAFETY PICTURES REDUCE ACCIDENT LIST

"Movies" Shown at Automobile Factory Warns the Workmen Against Carelessness.

The Ford Motor Company has found motion pictures a valuable aid in reducing the proportion of serious accidents in the big factory. The practical relation is best shown by the accident record, which shows a gradual reduction in the amount of time lost through injuries.

Through the co-operation of the Ford safety and photographic departments, a new safety film has just been completed, in which familiar factory scenes are used to show many of the more common accidents and how they can be avoided. Since a large part of the injuries are the result of personal carelessness, special emphasis is placed on the need for care on the part of each man, although the value of mechanical safeguards is also shown.

Reduces Accidents.

Each afternoon, several hundred workmen, selected from the various departments, gather in the company's motion picture auditorium to witness the safety pictures. In addition, there is a reel of general interest, usually selected from the Ford Education Weekly series, and a short talk on safety principles which apply to the work upon which the men present are engaged.

The newly appointed sales manager has already taken up his work in the Hayes general offices at Kokomo, Ind.

RED CROSS NURSES TO DRIVE OVERLAND CARS

Numerous Red Cross associations are forming divisions for the study of the operation of automobiles.

In one city a class of ten is taking instructions twice a week at the Willys-Overland dealer's place of business on how to drive and look after a car in case of military emergency.

William T. Wehrstedt, local Willys-Overland dealer, looks upon this as another indication of the popularity of its product among feminine drivers because of its simplicity and ease of operation, as well as its conveniences and comforts.
