Power of Mystic Scarab Proved in the "Undying Flame" to Be Shown with Noted Star.

HAS HISTORICAL FEATURES

Pharaoh's Daughter and Modern Society Girl Compared.

Mme. Olga Petrova, the world renowned Russian actress, has been engaged by the Jesse L. Lasky company in a long term contract and will make her first appearance in the Paramount Picture, "The Undying Flame," a picturesque production of which the scenes are laid in ancient and modern Egypt.

This photoplay is divided into two distinct parts, the first of which occurs during the days of the Pharaohs and concerns the love affair of the daughter of one of them and a shepherd lad.

The marriage is forbidden, for it is not permitted a princess to marry beneath her rank, and the humble lover is sentenced to immediate execution. Before they separate, however, they break in two a mystic scarab, which, according to their belief, symbolized their souls, and when reunited in years to come would reunite their souls.

The second part of the story brings us, centuries later, again to Egypt, where the two parts of the charm are again brought together in a most mysterious way that seems to substantiate the theory of the Egyptian belief in the transmigration of souls throughout the ages.

The modern lovers, however, have no realization of what is taking place, and the romance of their love affair forms almost a second story, were it not bound to the first part by a clever weaving together of circumstances, in the mystic power of the scarab.

A most astonishing and mysterious climax occurs unexpectedly, and while the last few feet of celluloid are flashed across the white screen one finds oneself wishing to see still more of Mme. Petrova in her marvelous interpretations of this dual character, differing widely yet the same through the ages.

This feature is billed at the Hoyburn theater, Evanston, on June 22.

ROCKFORD IS SELECTED AS CAMP SITE FOR MEN

Illinois Army Cantonment Is Given Out for Illinois.

Rockford, Ill., was selected, largely because it is "dry" territory, as the site for the army cantonment in Illinois, at which 40,000 men of the new army are to be trained. Springfield and Peoria also fought for the honor. Senator James Hamilton Lewis introduced delegations from the three cities to the War Department. Selection of Rockford is said to portend a political row in Illinois, because the chief backer of Rockford was Representative John C. McKenzie, Republican.

WAR!

By Kenneth MacDougall.

I. Whispering croon of the bullet, Hysterical shriek of the shell, Poisonous fume of the gas bomb, Wafting its soft death knell; Splutter and crack of machine gun, Krupps in the distance roar, Mines exploding around us—God! And they call this war!

II. Ghurkas are stretched to the left of us, Chanting their weird war cry, Highlanders off to the far right, Invitin' the foemen to die; Frenchmen and Malays and Russians, Canadians sippin' their tea, Officers gaunt, unshaven, and thin, The ghost of what used to be.

III. A lull in the roar of the battle, A cloud, then a gas attack; Artillery tears into action, Once more they are driven back. Then off from the ruined village Comes the sound of a vesper bell That lifts us a moment to Heaven, Then a crash brings us back to Hell.

IV. Whispering croon of the bullet, Hysterical shriek of the shell, Poisonous fume of the gas bomb, Wafting its soft death knell. Splutter and crack of machine gun, Krupps in the distance roar, Mines exploding around us—God! And they call this war!

RAILROAD RATES ARE RAISED IN THIS STATE

Passenger rates on every railroad in Illinois were raised from 2 to 2.4 cents a mile.

In making the advance the railroads were following an order from the interstate commerce commission, but at the same time they were in conflict with the Illinois 2 cent rate.

N. Y. Takes Cars.

To meet the estimated cost of the state government New York leaders have agreed to raise $2,000,000 more in motor taxes. According to the bill, registration fees will be twice as large. Omnibuses and motor trucks are included. The bill was introduced by the committee on taxation and retrenchment.

McAdoo Tells How First Issue of Bonds Was Determined to Meet Necessities of the Situation.

MONEY SPENT IN THE U. S.

Liberty Loan Will Not Interfere with Business Here.

By William G. McAdoo.

The first issue of bonds—$2,000,000,000—has not been determined by any arbitrary decision or judgment; it has been determined by the actual necessities of the situation. It is the least possible sum that we can afford to provide for the immediate conduct of the war. We are trying to spread the payment for the bonds over as large a period as possible so that there shall be no financial disturbance, and we are going to re-deposit the proceeds in the banks upon some equitable plan so that there shall be no interference with business. This money is not going to be taken out of the country.

We do not intend to be drawn at the chariot wheels of any military autocracy.

We have conscripted our young men. Shall we be more tender with our dollars?

Chief Buys Motor.

Ralph Dixey, noble Indian chief of the Blackfoot tribe, is the recent purchaser of a Willys-Knight. Incidentally, the chief is one of the first Willys-Knight owners in Idaho.

Tire Covers.

If you use an enamel cover for your tires, be sure you put it on right side up. Sometimes we find one put on upside down, which will cause it to hold the rain instead of shedding it.
