National Banks.

There are now 7,635 national banks in operation in this country, according to a report of the comptroller of the currency. The number in operation June 30, 1916, was 7,588.

Labor Shortage.

Our labor situation promises to become most acute next October. Not only will the drafted men and volunteers be greatly missed but we must send 250,000 men to France to handle railroad transportation of our troops and supplies alone.

Beet Sugar.

During the last decade three states—California, Colorado and Michigan—contained three-fourths of the area under sugar beets in this country and produced three-fourths of the beets and sugar.

Second Camp

Eleven North Shore Men Picked for Training Camp

THE second training camp is to start at Fort Sheridan with full swing the third day after it is officially opened, according to the officers who will be in command. The new group of students will be assigned to companies and equipped with clothing and guns on the first day, and on the second they will be given lectures.

All have been notified to report on August 27, and they will be assigned to companies in the order in which they arrive. There will be something over 3,600 candidates in the group that will report the first day, and within two weeks an additional 10 per cent will be added.

Illinois will lead with more than 1,200 candidates, then will come Wisconsin, Kansas, Colorado and Missouri. The students from the five states besides Illinois will be grouped into one regiment. Illinois will have a separate regiment.

The men of the north shore towns notified to report for the second camp are John B. Boddie, Harry J. Hurlbut, James L. Meneley, Wilmette; A. H. Kuhn, John D. Matz, Edward M. Cummings, Alanson Follansbee, Winnetka; D. S. Edwards, Charles D. Budd, Jr., C. H. Cushman, Glencoe, and R. G. Lester, Kenilworth.

MELLINGER REPORTS AT KANSAS CAMP FOR WORK

Wilmette Doctor Trains for New Army at Fort Riley School.

Dr. Herbert V. Mellinger, who is training as first lieutenant at Fort Riley, Kan., writes to The Lake Shore News of the life in the medical officers' camp, where many prominent doctors have been called to assist the United States in their war for democracy.

"The army reservation here covers 42 square miles," Dr. Mellinger writes. "The land is high and rolling and there are many deep ravines where we will have class work."

"I do not know how many doctors are here, probably 700, and more are coming each day. In the company to which I am assigned, there are 104 men. Very few of them are under 30 years old and the average age is 39 years."

"One man in my company, 54 years old, is a well-known Chicago surgeon. I served him as interne 11 years ago. Now he is on a par with me and he acts it. There is no snobbery here. We are all first lieutenants or captains, but while in training we are considered equal. The gold and black hat cord, however, brings us respect wherever we go."

"We are here to learn to be soldiers. Our living conditions are considerably like those at the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan. We live in board shacks, raised well above the ground. There are men in our shack. My floor is four feet by ten feet, and is very comfortable.

Reporting.

"One Who Splits an Inch Every Time and Glories in the writes: "What do you super-make of this, which I take from a report of a company meeting held recently: 'The directors decided more than double the carry-forward. Can the meaning be conveyed as precisely by preserving the integrity of the verb?'"
