LOCAL BOARD PLANS TO DRIVE OUT MOTH

Committee Is Appointed By President of the Wilmette Board to Exterminate Tussock Moth.

ATTACKS THE SHADE TREES

Park Board Officials Protect Trees in Their Districts.

The Wilmette village board, at its meeting on Tuesday evening, discussed plans for the extermination of the Tussock moth, which has been attacking the beautiful shade trees in the village with a vengeance.

A committee was appointed to report plans for a campaign to drive the moth from the trees. Benj. E. Gage and Louis K. Gillson, representing the park board, spoke to the members of the council on the destructive work of the moth, and outlined the plans they have made to protect the trees in the park districts.

A picture of the moth and an article on the manner in which it works after it has selected a tree, was published in the issue of The Lake Shore News of last week. The department of agriculture at Washington has prepared an article on the Tussock moth, and the brief reads as follows:

How Injurious—Under favorable conditions this insect is capable of increasing to enormous numbers and its caterpillars may completely defoliate the shade and park trees of a community. Excepting conifers, it attacks almost every variety of trees and especially poplar, soft maple, elm, alder, birch and willow. It is most destructive in cities. It is not abundant every year, being in the meantime kept in check by natural agencies, principally parasitic insects.

Evidence of Infestation—From September until the following spring; conspicuous, glistening white, frothy-looking egg masses, mostly low down on the trunk of the tree or on the main limbs.

In the spring or summer: Leaves partly or entirely eaten by caterpillars up to over an inch in length with red head, three long black plumes at the extremities of the body and four yellow, brush-like tufts with two red spots behind them on the back. Also cocoons and egg masses on back of trunk, branches and occasional leaves in localities where more than one generation is produced annually.

Remedies—1. Destroy the eggs in winter, either by hand-picking or scraping them off and burning or by spraying or dabbing them with creosote oil mixed with turpentine to keep it liquid in winter.

2. Spray infested foliage as soon as injury by the caterpillars is noticed with lead arsenate. This is a violent stomach poison procurable in most seed stores with directions for use printed on containers.

Pick Eggs By Hand.

Apparatus—Hand picking or any simple device will do for treatment of the eggs.

For spraying purposes a spray pump is necessary and the size of the equipment will vary with the amount of work to be done. A barrel pump mounted on a horse-drawn cart with one or two 50-100 feet leads of garden hose and a ten-foot bamboo rod with a spray nozzle at the end will do for a small town. Cities will find advantage in horse or motor-drawn power spray pumps. The catalogues of reliable spray pump manufacturers, giving detailed information, are procurable in most seed, pump or hardware stores and should be consulted.

Concerted Community Action—Treatment of a tree here and there, now and then, protects no trees, not even those treated. All or most trees must be treated the same season, whether this is done by citizens individually or as a community organization.

Business Men Meet.

The New Trier business men have been invited to attend an open meeting in Evanston, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Evanston Commercial association. The question of delivery service will be discussed.

INVENTOR USES WATER FOR FUEL IN U-BOATS

Edward D. Diley Has Invention to Make Divers More Effective.

Hope that a solution of the submarine has been found is held up by a group of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Atlantic City capitalists, who are forming a syndicate to exploit a new invention of Edward D. Riley of Laurel Springs, N. J.

Riley's invention, for which a patent has been allowed by the patent office, makes feasible the use of water as fuel for internal combustion and steam engines in the form of hydrogen and oxygen, and may revolutionize the engine and fuel industries. He has adapted a new indestructible submarine, which, having to carry no fuel and being unlimited in its radius of travel, can be used for the safe transport of supplies and men in large quantities by the underwater route. The water, readily obtainable by feed pipe to the sea, is decomposed through the already established electrolysis.

WAR CHIEFS NEED MORE MEN FOR FLYING CORPS

General Squier Orders Officers to Select New Students.

Brigadier General Squier, chief signal officer of the United States army, has ordered the officers on duty at the military colleges throughout the country to select as many students as possible for the flying corps.

At the War Department it was said the military instructors had not been given any definite number to pick, but were merely ordered to select as many students as were found qualified and suitable for aviation work.

Captain Duncan Elliot, commandant of the cadet corps at St. John's college, Annapolis, Md., expects to furnish a score or more aviators from the student body there.

Miss Virginia Taylor of Alton, Ill., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Braithwaite, 906 Greenwood avenue.

netka soldiers and sailors were given with determination.

The women served refreshments to the people attending the program. The women were again prominent with their great help in the war work when each of the selected men were called to come to the speakers' platform and receive a comfort kit.

As each man stepped forward for this remembrance and as the names of all the men serving in the fighting units of Uncle Sam were called, the hall echoed with lusty cheers for every individual.

The members of the first contingent to leave Winnetka entrained at Wilmette this morning for the Rockford cantonment.
