figures on Amount of Food to Be Used to Feed Members of New Army Given by Quartermaster.

CAMP COVERS 3,000 ACRES

1,000 Men Will Be Housed in Barracks Before Winter.

(By Staff Correspondent.)

CAMP GRANT, ILL., September 13. (Special)—The physical aspect of Camp Grant which impresses one most is its tremendous size. It reads out like a great blanket of roads. It covers 3,000 acres but it appears even larger because of the wide streets lined on each side with buildings, the network of railroad yards and the rows of temporary tents housing the construction gangs, which cover the landscape far in the distance and on all sides the cantonment.

To comprehend the herculean effort it took to complete this camp one should be remembered that construction began on July 5 and to the building program buildings had to be completed by the 15th.

1,143 Buildings Ready.

Today there are 1,143 buildings within the cantonment, and many more to be built. The completed buildings are those named in the first contracts, and many contracts have been let since work started two months ago.

The hospital section alone comprises 61 buildings, and its cost, exclusive of equipment, was more than a million dollars. The hospital has 1,000 beds, but provision has been made for enlarging it to care for 1,500 patients.

There are more than 200 barracks in the camp and each barracks is large enough to house comfortably 100 soldiers. Forty thousand men will be housed in these barracks before winter, while more than 4,000 officers will be residing in the numerous officers' quarters, which accommodate 25 to each building. These officers' headquarters are by far the most unpretentious buildings in camp as they are comfortable and practical, as is every building on these 3,000 acres. The hospital buildings are not ornamental, but they have been so built as to catch every possible ray of sunlight.

The Y. M. C. A., when their work is completed, will have eight buildings, with an auditorium seating 3,500 people, the Red Cross will occupy two buildings and the Knights of Columbus will have a huge recreational building just as soon as the carpenters can reach this part of the plans. Despite these hundreds of buildings more than 2,000 officers will live outside of camp.

10,000 Horses in Camp.

Ten thousand horses and mules will be part of the camp equipment, and are present housed in tents and being taken to the contractors are more horses and wagons than were ever carried by a circus.

The parade ground has been laid out but no work has been started on it. It looks small, still it is one mile long and 1,000 feet wide. Almost anything out here looks small in comparison to the camp itself. The rifle range alone will cover 500 acres when it is completed.

The various heating plants will cost over $1,000,000. There are some tanks in this camp which hold about the same, one being a 300,000 gallon cement reservoir, the other a 250,000 gallon water tank. There are twelve Artesian wells capable of pumping 100 gallons per minute. The ice-making and cold storage plant is said to be the largest in any army camp in the world.

In talking with one of the officers, who worked in Major Sawyer's office, the statement was made that the following materials were necessary to complete the contract on the camp:

- Forty million feet of lumber.
- One thousand tons of nails.
- One hundred and fifty acres of felt roofing.
- One hundred and seventy carloads of plumbing.
- Forty miles of water and sewer pipe.
- Sixteen miles of permanent macadam and gravel roads.
- Two hundred and fifty miles of electric light wire.

And just as interesting as the amount of material is the amount of food it will take monthly to feed the 40,000 who will live here. These

North Shore Golfer, Who Holds Women's Western Title, Equals Records Made by Former Stars

MRS. F. C. LETTS, JR., of Winnetka, a member of the Indian Hill club, has won the woman's western championship for the second time. Mrs. Letts kept the golf championship with the north shore club by defeating Miss Elaine Rosenthal of the Ravisloe Country club, in the finals last week at Flossmore.

It was Mrs. Letts' second win of the W. A. Alexander trophy, equaling the performance of Mrs. C. L. Dering, who won in 1905 and 1906, and Miss Caroline Painter, who won in 1911 and 1912. Miss Bessie Anthony was the original winner in 1903, when the Women's Western Golf association was formed, and was victor in tournaments at Onwentsia the two preceding years, which generally were considered equivalent to championship events.
