MINISTER OF NORTH SHORE AT NEW CAMP

Horace G. Smith of Glencoe Has Been Appointed By Bishop Nicholson to Care for the Soldiers.

STATIONED AT ROCKFORD

Granted a Leave of Absence for the Duration of War.

By Staff Correspondent.

Camp Grant, Ill., Sept. 14.—(Special).—The Methodist church is going to follow and protect her boys in uniform. As the soldier follows the flag, so will the church follow the soldier.

For the first time in the history of this denomination a movement on a large scale has been put under way which will bring the church to the very door of the cantonment. Denominations cannot occupy quarters within, but there is no ruling to stop them from organizing within and meeting without. The only two organizations of a religious nature permitted in camp are the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus, the first representing the protestant churches, the latter the Catholic.

At Work at All Camps.

Not only at this camp but at the fifteen other cantonments throughout the United States will the welfare of the Methodist soldier be guarded by the church. The bishops of the various areas have been instructed by the general board to select one man to represent the church at each camp.

For Camp Grant the selection rested with Bishop Thomas Nicholson, and as was the natural thing for him to do he went to the north shore for his man. He found him and the man arrived this morning ready for work.

He is Rev. Horace G. Smith, a graduate of Northwestern university and for a number of years secretary of the College Y. M. C. A. The last few years he has been living in Evanston and preaching at Glencoe. At the request of the bishop he has been granted a leave of absence by the Glencoe church for the duration of the war.

Started Work This Morning.

Rev. Smith was found by the representative of the Winnetka Talk this morning sitting at a writing desk in the cantonment Y. M. C. A. busily engaged in writing a letter home with the news that he had arrived safely.

He was asked to talk about the work he was sent here to do.

"It is rather premature for me to talk about my plans," he said, "as I have been here but a few minutes and have not had time to study the ground.

"Of course my chief purpose of being here is to watch after the interests of Methodists among the officers and drafted men. We have hundreds of them, and like myself, they are strangers to this camp and to Rockford. We intend to arrange entertainments for them, hold meetings and keep them from becoming lonesome. Much of our work will be done in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A., but we want the Methodists in camp to know that the church knows they are here and that the church is here to aid them. I believe most of our plans will work themselves out, but those that won't I must engineer.

Churches Must Co-Operate.

"I will spend most of my time this week in visiting the pastors and board of elders of the five Methodist churches in Rockford. All the work we will do out here will be done either directly or indirectly through those churches. We must have the co-operation of every Methodist in Rockford to make our plan a success.

"At present when a soldier gets leave off he has no place in Rockford where he can go except to the hotel or on the street. We hope to have the churches keep open house for these boys—a place where they can go and find a warm spot with piano and music and a place to which they will be anxious to return.

Place of Welcome.

"In short, I will try to organize the five churches of our denomination in Rockford so that the members will extend the right hand of fellowship and brotherly love to these boys who are away from home, so that they will feel perfectly at ease and know that other persons than their parents and relatives are interested in their welfare.

"Then, too, as the representative of my church, I will co-operate with the municipal authorities and civic organizations in making Rockford a safe place for the boys in uniform.

"It is new work for me and new work for the church itself, but I believe there is a great need for just such a thing, and certainly the least the church can do for these boys who are sacrificing their time, their business and possibly their lives for their country, and thereby indirectly for the churches and the church members, is to encircle the camp with the church's net of comradeship, brotherly love and kindness."

Obituary.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon for James Ludlow Clute, who died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Frank C. Farmer, in Hubbard Woods, Monday morning. Interment was at Rosehill cemetery.

Mr. Clute lived for a number of years in Pasadena and Los Angeles, Cal., and later made his home with his father, George M. Clute, of Wilmette. He is survived by his father, George M. Clute; two sisters, Mrs. Frank C. Farmer of Hubbard Woods, and Miss Frances W. Clute of Wilmette, and a brother, George S. Clute, of Wilmette.

BRAZIL FARMERS WANT TRACTORS TO AID MEN

South America Is Becoming a Real Market for Motors.

Another market for the foreign tractor, should the American manufacturers get in position to supply the demands for tractors, may be found not only in this country, but in Brazil, as the present prosperity of that country has led to a renewed interest in modern agricultural methods and to a demand for all sorts of American farm machinery and implements, according to a report by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. It is expected that the industrial and agricultural revival that has taken place in Brazil since the first period of depression that followed the outbreak of the war will make itself felt for many years to come. Agricultural condition in each of the Brazilian states are described at length in the report, and the point is made that small farms and intensive cultivation are the rule rather than very large farms and extensive methods such as exist in Argentina. The situation in Brazil emphasizes the importance of supplying the demand for tractors, as more crops in Brazil would mean a greater supply of foodstuffs for the United States at the present war.

Army Record.

Parke C. West, with P. W. Gibbs as driver, made an automobile test as order of former Adjutant General Stotesbury on the route from New York to Washington and covered the 230.8 miles in 5 hours and 58 minutes. The trip was made to determine the speed with which automobiles will be able to relieve the railroads of burden in moving troops to and from military camps. The trip was started at midnight and was followed by a return trip with General McArthur as a passenger.
