

Social Happenings on the North Shore by Ruth Risley

OF COURSE every one is going to the carnival today in the gardens surrounding the home of Mrs. John Nash Ott in Indian Hill. The children have been looking forward to this affair for weeks, and all their spare pennies have been set aside to buy pony rides and take a chance on the grab bag. Have we forgotten to mention that the entire proceeds are to be devoted to the Infant Welfare society? There isn't much use telling all about all the interesting features there are going to be, for that would spoil it all, you must see for yourselves.

In the evening the Winnetka Branch plans to conduct a garden party to be held on the same premises. In case there should be rain, things will be postponed until the following evening. The patronesses for the garden party include Mesdames James Houghteling, John Scott, John Nash Ott, John Stuart, Donald Dallas, Cornelius Lynde, Charles Mordock, Frederick Greeley, Edwin Clark, Horace Tenney and J. Allen Haines.

The program will consist of dancing and music. An orchestra will play during the first part of the evening. Mrs. Charles G. Cree will render a few selections on the violin. Miss Genevieve Fitzgerald and her pupils will dance the "Pipes of Pan" and Oriental dances. An interpretative reading of the "Pipes of Pan", composed by Lulu Jones Downing, will be given by Miss Wilmarth. The society hopes to raise the necessary funds to meet the expense of running their station which they maintain at the Chicago Commons.

THE WEDDING of Miss Charlotte Atlee Black, to Louis Livingston of New York, will take place on Saturday at high noon at Christ church. Reverend E. Ashley Gerhard reading the services. Miss Black will have no attendants, and the services will be a most simple one. A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cunard Black, will follow, after which the young couple will leave immediately for the east, to make their home on Long Island.

Miss Polly Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Chase of Lake Forest and Chicago, became the bride of Lieutenant Preston Boyden, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Boyden last Saturday afternoon in St. Chrysostom's church. In her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin and rare old rose point lace, and with her dark hair partly concealed by her tulle veil fastened by a lace coronet, Mrs. Boyden made a very lovely picture. The shower bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

Her bridesmaids, who were her classmates at Bryn Mawr college, carried old fashioned bouquets of pink sweet peas with paper frills. They were her sisters, Miss Elizabeth Chase, Lieutenant Boyden's sister, Miss Margaret Boyden, Miss Margaret Littell and Miss Mabel Churchill of Cornish, N. H., Miss Margaret Bent of Chestnut Hill, Pa., Miss Elizabeth Fenner of New Orleans, and Miss Edith Cummings, Miss Genevra King, Miss Marriett McLaughlin and Miss Emily Bissell. Two of them wore pink organdie, with hats to match. Two others wore pale green, two others lavender, two blue and two yellow.

Little Janet Chase, sister of the bride, and Elizabeth Bolden, sister of the groom, were flower girls. They wore white organdie frocks with pink sashes and hats carried baskets of pink sweet peas.

William C. Boyden Jr., R. O. T. C., was his brothe's best man, and the ushers were Captain Thomas Marshall, Captain Hunt Wentworth, Captain Fitch Harwood, Captain C. Collette, Lieutenant Richard Bentley, Lieutenant Henry Kenney, Lieutenant Sidney Greeley, Lieutenant Frederick Popeland, and Cadet Aviator Wilberforce Taylor. These ten young men, in their khaki colored uniforms, made an impressive picture as they stood with their sabers crossed, making an archway under which Lieutenant Boyden and his bride passed as they left the altar. The Reverend Dr. Norman Hutton read the service.

The church was decorated with white peonies and lighted tapers. The bride was given away by her father, Mrs. Chase, mother of the bride, wore a gown of light tan satin and Mrs. Boyden, the bridegroom's mother, wore pearl gray satin.

A reception for members of the two families and intimate friends was held after the ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chase, 3204 Sheridan road. After a wedding trip of ten days Mrs. Boyden will come to Winnetka to live, and will be joined there every week-end by Lieutenant Boyden, who is an acting captain at Camp Grant.

Miss Ruth Lieber, 988 Elm street, left last Saturday for an extended visit in the east. The first of the week she visited in Cleveland and Canton, O. She also will stop in Boston for a few days, and then go on to Peterboro, N. H. to remain indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Proudy will leave Sunday morning to motor to Bayliss Harbor, Wis., where they will spend the week. The following week they expect to go to their summer cottage at McHenry, Ill., for the remainder of the season.

Miss Georgie Rob of Whitewater, Mich., is the guest of Mrs. Morris H. Lieber, 988 Elm street.

means more to the world at present than any previous time in history. War conditions compel us to test the value of words like these:

"In Union there is strength."
"United we stand divided we fall."
"One can chase a thousand,
Two can put ten thousand to flight."

Even distribution of Food products at the lowest cost demands co-operation between

1. Merchants (along particular lines).
2. Merchants and Employees.
3. Merchants and Customers.
4. Consumers and consumers.

Every patriot wants to win the war by supporting aggressive policies in war methods, and the most practical methods of facilitating conservation of food (for the good of all). Merchants have constant evidence that people unite with them in making changes for good.

Every food distributing place will begin Monday, July 1, to charge 5 cents for delivery. Time will undoubtedly substantiate the wisdom of such a move. The sum charged is only part of the actual cost, but it will result in concentration, and improved systems of buying.

Forethinking relieves congestion, makes service possible, greatly assists fellow men, and brings rewards to the one who so practices. Continuous demands for men for the army compels our utmost efforts to meet properly the new conditions.

Salespeople eager to serve you intelligently and satisfactorily will gladly take your order either over the Telephone or in the store.
