

Social Happenings on the North Shore by Ruth Risley

THE MOST IMPORTANT EVENT of the week's social calendar will be the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Betty Hoyt, daughter of Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt, 483 Sheridan road, and Lieutenant T. Philip Swift, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Swift of Chicago and Lake Geneva. The service will be read at 4 o'clock at Christ's church, the little Episcopal church, that Miss Hoyt's grandmother built before her death. A reception at the residence of Benjamin Allen, Miss Hoyt's grandfather, with whom she and her mother and sister make their home, will follow the ceremony.

Lieutenant Swift's parents, and sister, Mrs. Huntington Henry, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward F. Swift, Jr., are hurrying home from Magnolia, Mass., to attend the wedding, the plans for which were sudden, owing to the fact that it was not until Tuesday that Lieutenant Swift found it would be possible for him to obtain leave of absence this week-end. Miss Emilie Hoyt will be her sister's maid of honor and the bride's other attendants will be Mrs. Swift, Jr., Mrs. Henry, Miss Ginevra King, Miss Reba Gray, of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Catherine Blossom, Miss Margaret Pullman, Miss Lolita Armour, Miss Helen Hoyne, Miss Louise Geraghty and Miss Blanche Day.

Lieutenant Swift will take his bride to Sparta, Wis., to live, until he goes overseas.

The following letter was written by Dr. J. O. Ely of Winnetka from his summer home to a friend in Chicago:

"The Cabin Farm, Black Oak Lake Vilas County, Wis., August 11. My dear B.—Yesterday in driving down in the Tamarack I stopped before a little log cabin—my heart went out in pity as I glanced at the little acre of ground, for the poor family that was facing the severity of the northern winter and I was inclined to patronize the poor chap that owned it until looking at the front window. I saw five service flags hanging there.

"Five sons gone—given freely and the old man left to fight the wilderness alone. Next Sunday I am going down there again; we will put up a flag pole, unfurl Old Glory to the breeze to float over the Five-Starred Cabin of the Tamarack until the 'Boys Come Home.'

"Will you kindly send me an American flag and one five starred service flag to replace the paper one in the window?"

J. O. Ely.
Dr. Ely is the father of Lieutenant Dinsmore Ely, who died April 21 in France of wounds received in an air battle with five German aviators.

John H. McIlvaine, who was recently made a major in the field artillery branch of the regular army, spent one day last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McIlvaine of 112 Bellevue place, Chicago, on his way to Camp Lewis, Wash. Major McIlvaine who is one of the best known and most popular of the younger men in Chicago, is probably the youngest major in the service. He is a graduate of the Chicago Latin school and Cornell University and is a member of the honorary engineering society, Tau Beta Pi. He received a commission as captain at the first Fort Sheridan reserve officers' training camp and was given command of Company B. Marquis Eaton of the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, offered a Red Cross honor band for the largest number of signed pledges from the various wards of the city where the salvage campaign is being waged. He is also prepared to give a similar banner to the suburban organization securing the greatest number of signatures from housewives who promise to sell their salvage to the junk men in exchange for Red Cross coupons for the duration of the war. Mrs. William C. Boyden is in charge of the "junk drive" here in Winnetka.

Recent press dispatches have announced that Lieutenant Alan F. Winslow of River Forest, formerly a resident of Winnetka, has been officially reported killed in action, having lost his life while flying over the enemy lines last week.

The Vegetable Market has become a civic need in the Village, and folks are depending upon it almost entirely for their vegetable supplies. Early Saturday mornings, one will see numerous women, market baskets on their arms, hurrying towards Community House, in order to obtain the nicest and freshest vegetables.

Another feature has been added to the market, in the form of a ten cent table. It is to be inaugurated this week, and anyone who wishes to sell small articles for that price for the benefit of the children of France, may deposit them there.

Needless to say the Recipe Tree is blooming and bearing fruit. It has become a most popular place indeed, to exchange one's ideas and grasp new ones. Won't you bring a new recipe this week?

Miss Olive Grover will be in charge of the sale this week, and on the following Saturday, Mrs. Goodchild will take charge.

Quaint little St. Chrysostom's church, in which many fashionable military weddings have taken place recently, will be the scene of another one on Wednesday, September 3, when Miss Ginevra King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King, will be married to Ensign William H. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell. Among the bridal attendants will be the Misses Betty Hoyt, Catherine Blossom, and Lolita Armour.
