

HENRY R. RATHBONE ACTIVE REPUBLICAN

Kenilworth Candidate For Seat in Congress Also Prominent in Civic Affairs

Henry R. Rathbone, who has announced his candidacy for republican nomination for congressman-at-large has a long record of achievement both as a private citizen and as a leader in republican politics.

He was active in the preparedness movement soon after the world war broke out in 1914. And since America's entrance in the war he has played a prominent part as patriotic speaker for the Liberty loan, the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and War Savings stamps, and has served the State Council of Defense as a four-minute man. He has been much in demand outside of the state, as well as in Illinois, for his patriotic speeches.

Prominent Civic Worker

He was chairman of the war committee of the Chicago Bar association and one of the originators of the Chicago plan of lawyers' war work which has been nationally accepted.

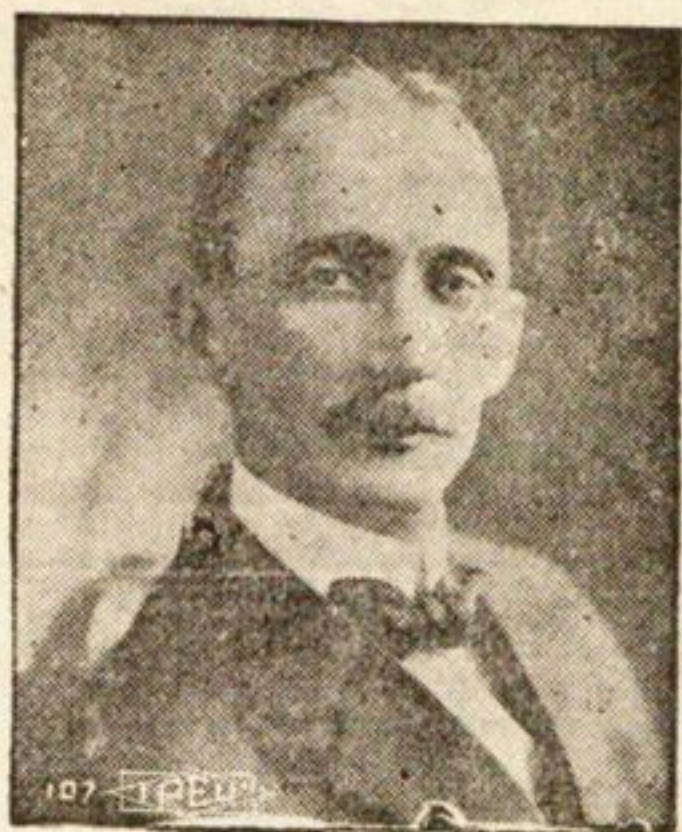

He is vice chairman of the Illinois committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, vice chairman of the Pythian War Relief Fund committee, and a member of the Illinois Constitutional Convention committee.

In his twenty years of active service for the republican party in Illinois he has held several positions of trust in the party. He successfully presented Chicago's claims as the convention city to the national committee in 1915. The following year he was alternate-at-large to the national convention. He was unanimously elected president of the Hamilton club, the largest political club in the country, in 1916.

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Schell to Mr. John Dinklecamp of Fort Sheridan was solemnized at the home of Reverend Francis Stifer, on August 20. Mrs. Dinklecamp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schell of Wilmette.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Smith, 112 Broadway avenue, have sold their home and have moved to 811 Lakeside Place, Chicago.

Judge Thomas F. Scully

As Judge of the Cook County Court Thomas F. Scully has not only performed his ordinary duties so well that he has established a new record for public service in this office, but he has performed notable work in aiding the winning of the war.

It is a fact not generally known that it was because of Judge Scully's patriotic endeavors that selective conscription was such a success in Cook county. Judge Scully was in complete charge of the registration under the selective conscription act. The duty of conducting that registration was not imposed upon him by law, and it was only when the city administration found it impossible to undertake the task that he assumed it.

The result was that Chicago, alone of all the large cities in the country, was able to make complete returns on the first day of registration and alone of all large cities in the country registered its future soldiers without a hitch of any kind. Judge Scully was enabled to perform this feat owing to his successful management of the election machinery of the county. At his request the judges and clerks of election served without pay as draft registrars and the owners of polling places granted the use of their places of business free of charge. The expense to Chicago, to the state and to the nation of registering the thousands of men eligible for military service was practically nothing.

The same efficiency displayed in the management of the registration has been manifested at all elections and primaries. During Scully's four years in office there has never been a serious complaint about the fairness with which the primaries and elections were conducted. He is the first county judge of recent years under whose administration no election official has been convicted of frauds.

Judge Scully's achievements in the establishment of humanitarian methods in dealing with the wards of the county have won the commendation of all those familiar with what he has done. He is the first county judge under whom scientific methods have been introduced in caring for the insane. The old method of dealing with the insane as if they were criminals has been done away with and instead of allowing lay juries to pass upon their cases commissions of eminent physicians have been appointed to render judgment.

In all the other departments of the county government under the jurisdiction of Judge Scully the same improvements have been noted.

SAVE YOUR GARDEN SEED FOR NEXT YEAR

Save your own vegetable seed for next year's garden, is the advice of the Food Production and Conservation committee of the State Council of Defense.

Seed threatens to be high and scarce. As an indication, spinach seed has steadily advanced from 12 cents a pound to $1.50 and $2 a pound. Other vegetable seeds are just as high relatively.

No matter how patriotic, the person, a war garden next year may become too expensive for the average purse, unless precautions are taken this fall to assure a private supply of seed.

The home gardener needs to sacrifice but a small part of the crop to have seed for next year. Choose the best plants from which to save seed. Be sure the seed is ripe; be sure it is dry before storing away; be sure it is protected from rats and mice.

If you have no garden, but wish to plant one next year, ask a neighbor who has a garden to save seed for you, or allow you to save seed from his garden.

Another matter of importance, now that garden production is at its height, is to see that not a bit of the produce goes to waste. If you cannot eat or can all of it, remember that you have neighbors who are not so well supplied. Return to the old fashioned co-operative method of sending over a mess of beans or a few cucumbers. Don't let good food go to waste.

Co-operation Between Telephone Users

IT takes three individuals to complete a telephone conversation—the person calling, the operator, and the person called.

If the three are prompt and accurate and the conversation is as brief as possible, the line is soon at the disposal of others; if not, it is probable that before the conversation is finished, one or both speakers will have kept a social or business acquaintance waiting to use the wire.

Co-operation between telephone users in this important respect will improve the service.

Are You Interested in Your Taxes in This War Time?

Are you interested in seeing your neighbor pay what he ought to pay?

Do you believe that the men who have the responsibility of setting valuations upon taxable property should be men who know something about property values?

We are all interested in whatever affects our purses. The subject of taxes has taken on a new significance since the word "war tax" has become so familiar to our ears. We all need to count our outgo into essential channels in order that we may meet the many new demands which are made upon us today.

In the September primaries the people of Cook County will have the opportunity to register their concern for fair taxes. They will have the opportunity then of nominating for membership upon the two taxing boards men who are equal to the task they will meet. They may give to men who have had long and efficient training for the work, position upon the ticket in the general election as candidates for membership upon the Board of Review and the Board of Assessors.

Perkins B. Bass is standing for nomination for membership of the Board of Review. Charles Ringer seeks nomination for the Board of Assessors. They are standing upon the Loyalist Ticket. They are pledging the utmost in service. They are honest men, reputed for performance of their promises.

People who believe in employing a specialist for a specialist's job will vote for these two real estate men to fill these two real estate positions. North Shore people are that kind.

Bass and Ringer are real estate men of the highest calibre. They can do the job and do it right.
