CUT DOWN EXPENSE:
LIVE THE SIMPLE LIFE

Here are a few points on thrift given by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer which are worthy of emulation by Americans:

Lives must be lived more simply. Personal household and business expenses must be reduced to the minimum. Surplus weekly or monthly earnings, over necessary expenditures, must be invested straightway in war securities.

Current balances at the banks should be kept as small as possible and the money invested in war bonds.

Nobody's money can be neutral. Money lent to the country fights for the country. Money spent on luxuries and non-essentials is helping the enemy.
