48 N. U. MEN OFF TO OFFICERS' SCHOOL

The first large group of Uncle Sam's new fighting force from the Northwestern university student army training camp is on the initial jump of its trip to Berlin. Forty men left here early this morning and eight last night for officers' training schools. They are all from the collegiate section.

Four of the enthusiastic men of last Wednesday night's group were sent to Fort Monroe, Va., for heavy mobile artillery training at the officers' training school. The other half of the squad left for the officers' training school at Camp Hancock, Ga., and will be attached to the central machine gun section.

At 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning the larger squad gathered at the Davis street station of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad and boarded a train for Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., where they will be attached to the infantry branch of the O. T. S.

The machinery that is ceaselessly turned out finished fighting material soon will produce 100 men from the vocational section of the university. They were sent away last Saturday. These men have practically completed their two months' course in radio and sheet metal work here and will make way for more men.

WINNETKA SUBSCRIBES $100,000 OVER QUOTA

then, as soon as the drive was underway, a big thermometer, as shown in another column, was put up just west of the Chicago and Northwestern railway station and, as the subscribers pumped "red blood" into its tube, the daily amount of subscriptions were registered, so that all those going to and from Chicago could see how the loan was getting along. To cap the climax an old mission convent bell was hung on top of the thermometer and this bell was rung by boy scouts the guard daily from 7 to 9 A. M. and 5 to 7 P. M.

Praise Headquarter's Workers

There were more subscriptions placed at headquarters for the Fourth Liberty loan than for the Third loan. Each day Mr. Frederick S. Tyrell and Mr. Arthur A. Zipf, assisted by women, were on hand to answer questions and take each and every subscription with a winning smile of appreciation. The public however could not realize what a lot of work had to be done from 8 o'clock in the evening until midnight when the subscription blanks were checked over and the report compiled to be ready for the Liberty bond clearing house in Chicago. This work was cheerfully done by a splendid band of men volunteers. Chief among them, for his unremitting faithfulness, was Mr. Sanborn Hale.

The closing picture of that campaign appeared when that splendid poster of the Fourth Liberty loan was put on the big billboard at the station, showing a wonderful woman carrying a sword in her up-raised hand while her other hand held a shield behind which was a strong picture of the American eagle watching our soldiers marching on to victory.

So ends the greatest Liberty Loan drive Winnetka has ever experienced and, in years to come, when this frightful war is a matter of history, we shall feel proud to tell our children that part of their inheritance will be bonds of the Fourth Liberty loan bought in Winnetka in October 1918.

MERCHANTS FOLLOW OUT ECONOMY PLANS

Records of the State Council of Defense Commercial Economy Administration show that Illinois merchants are pledging themselves by thousands to observe all requests for the conservation of man power.

Among these requests are the one delivery a day system, elimination of special deliveries and the refusal to permit the return of goods kept longer than three days by the purchaser.

The names of all merchants in towns of 1,000 or over in Illinois are on record in the Chicago offices of the administration, together with responses thus far made. Towns whose merchants are already reported as one hundred per cent loyal are Blue Island, Casey, Centralia, Geneva, Peru, Robinson, Sullivan, and Vandalia. Twenty other towns are on record as eighty per cent loyal and names are still coming in.

Chicago dry-goods merchants and grocers have completed organizations covering the entire city, and are pledging themselves to observe all rules.

BOOKLET CONTAINS ADVICE FOR FAMILIES OF SOLDIERS

"Before You Go" is the title of a booklet which has been issued by the Department of Civilian Relief of the American Red Cross for distribution by each home service section to drafted men.

It contains advice for the drafted man and his family on the steps to be taken to safeguard property while he is gone, what to do to secure allotments and allowances and war risk insurance.

Land cannot be sold for taxes, property purchased on the installment plan cannot be taken back without refund of all money paid, mortgages cannot be foreclosed or families evicted and insurance policies and fraternal benefits will not lapse if proper steps are taken by the men in the service, their families or friends. The booklet tells just what to do in these and other emergencies, and tells where free legal advice may be obtained.

WILL BUY AUTOS OF MEN GOING TO WAR

By C. E. Bridges

So many of our boys are entering the service who have cars to dispose of that there are now many good bargains. Anyone desiring to sell his car for the above reason will always find us ready to do our utmost to turn the car into cash at the earliest possible moment. If we sell the car on time we will carry the notes and pay over the cash for the car.

To those contemplating purchasing next year, we advise buying now and you will save money.

Next season "cars will be cars."

be so hurtful to the interests of the nation that it cannot be permitted, the retail interests represented at this hearing have agreed to co-operate further in the campaign heretofore and now being carried on under the auspices of the War Industries Board to restrict deliveries and to induce their customers to carry their own packages wherever possible.

The retail interests to which reference has been made, have further agreed to make an announcement to the above substantial effect in their advertisements commencing in early September and repeating same weekly thereafter. The above suggestions if faithfully and loyally put into effect throughout the country will make possible a continuance of holiday custom without endangering the national interests thereby.

The Council of National Defense will co-operate in carrying out the suggested measures. It looks to organized business bodies of every nature and throughout the country actively to join the movement as providing means whereby that co-operation between the government and the people can be had which alone will permit the continuance of holiday business in such form, on such scale, and by such methods as are consistent with the national welfare. This announcement is definitely conditioned upon loyal and thorough co-operation in spirit and in letter on the part of sellers and buyers throughout the country."

Martin Philipson, Chairman, Commercial Economy Administration of Winnetka:

Not A Violation

United States Fuel Administrator Garfield announced that the use of automobiles on gasolineless Sundays for the purpose of aiding the Fourth Liberty loan would not be considered a violation of the request of the Fuel Administration for the Sunday saving of gasoline.

Under a proclamation issued by President Wilson and regulations formulated by the Fuel Administration, those engaged in the business of importing, manufacturing, distributing and transporting crude oil, fuel oil, gas oil, kerosene, gasoline, and natural gas are required to secure licenses to do business.

Bell System

Keep a Clear Line

IN normal times the telephone company would not feel called upon to suggest that its subscribers forego the use of their service in any degree whatever. But these are days when intelligent economy must be practiced by all.

An unnecessary telephone call is as truly a waste as the unnecessary consumption of a pound of coal or a pound of food. Calls of a purely social character should be made brief. This does not mean that we must be abrupt and brusque, but merely that our conversation should not be prolonged into "visiting."

If this practice is followed there will be fewer "busy" reports from the operators.

Fall Time in Nature's Play Ground

along the

North Shore Line

IT'S JUST BEAUTIFUL now out in the natural play grounds to be found along the North Shore Line. The fallen leaves and dying shrubbery fill the air with their last enticing fragrance. The green of summer has given way to the fall tinge of beautiful rainbow colorings, and the air is great, out there. A day in the woods and fields will make you forget the strain, the toil and the dirt of city and town. It will invigorate your entire system.

There are plenty of places to spend a day roaming through little patches of wilderness. See beautiful Root River Falls, for instance; a short ride north of Racine.
