CHAPLAIN'S NOTE BEARS NEWS OF BROTHER'S DEATH

Mrs. Albert E. Armstrong, 126 Ninth street, this week received word, through a letter written by an army chaplain, of the death in a French hospital of her brother, Lieut. Lorne L. Cupples. The letter appeared in an eastern newspaper.

Lieutenant Cupples was a graduate of the Plattsburg Officers' training school. He ignored a recommended commission of captain and accepted a First Lieutenancy which insured overseas duty.

Popular Young Woman Dies

Funeral services for Miss Margaret Herbert, sister of Mrs. John Schopen of 418 Prairie avenue, who died at St. Francis hospital, Monday afternoon, of Spanish influenza, were held at St. Francis church, Reverend Father Lennox officiating. Miss Herbert was popular among the younger people of the Village scores of whom attended the services.

The Misses Wagner, Ridge and Blume avenues, this week received a letter from Joe P. Wagner, of company L, 56th Infantry, overseas, telling of his promotion recently to the rank of Corporal. Wagner had been in France but one month when he received his promotion.

Lieutenant James G. Barber Discusses Many Phases of Conditions in Europe

James G. Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barber of Wilmette, Ill., has received his commission as lieutenant, having been recommended several months ago by the Commander-in-chief of the American Army in France. Lieutenant Barber offered his services to the government as soon as the United States declared war, and was accepted; he did not enter an officers' training camp but continued his regular business with the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, until called at the end of August to report at Fort Crook, Neb.

A month later he was transferred to Fort Benjamin Harrison, promoted to a first sergeant and made Master of Motor Transport company 310, Train 403. Two months later this company and others entrained for an American seaport, and sailed for overseas on January 12, landing in England.

Excerpts from letters received from the lieutenant contain information which will be of interest to Wilmette residents who know the young officer.

Speaking of the food situation in France Lieutenant Barber says: "The United States is surely helping to build up France. Formerly many French had no way to keep meat. The United States has built a huge refrigerator system, large enough to keep meat for a whole army for the duration of the war, or a year or two. In cities there are large shops much like ours, but in the villages the meat shops are numerous, small, stuffy and dirty. We have fruits about the same as at home. I sometimes buy a box of berries, etc., sometimes go down the road and buy a cup of hot chocolate and a couple of eggs for four francs."

Forsaw War's End

Lieutenant Barber hints at prospects of an early cessation of hostilities when he says, "Everything looks bright on this side. I can almost smell turkey at home Christmas. Of course we transport men may have to remain a few months longer than others if the war does terminate, as we must bring back to the boats much that we took away to camps and to the front. But we are as happy as it is possible to be away from our loved ones, and no one is doing any crumpling except the Germans. They are doing a lot now. They have some choice names for the boys in olive drab. I was talking to some French chaps and every one had been inoculated with T. B. germs. Oh! they'll (the Germans) pay for it. They are doing so now."

When you find men chained to the machine guns, as our fellows found Germans, its going a long way the wrong way. If you could only see the spirit in the boys in olive drab uniforms, Great!" The Germans got the surprise of their lives when they attacked some of our patrols. They found the tanks the real stuff. Our men are crazy to get their hands on the Germans.

For residents in and about Chicago who lament the congestion and confusion of traffic in the loop the following description of conditions in the busy streets of Paris may provide some consolation. Referring to traffic conditions Lieutenant Barber writes:

"When I tell you traffic is worse here than in Chicago, would you believe it? It is a fact. The French drive funny little two-wheeled carts and when they have a large wagon three horses, in tandem, are used. Just as we want to pass and are in a hurry they seem to happen to pull across in front of us and they use any side of the street that pleases them. It makes it most difficult for our drivers to go quickly; and to hear them "cuss" in American cuss words when the other fellow does not understand a word, is quite amusing. Most of us have been here long enough to tell them — in French."

Sees Hospital Bombing

In another letter Lieutenant Barber tells of the complete destruction of a hospital as the result of a German aerial raid.

"One night German planes dropped bombs on a hospital with a lot of wounded boys in it who could not be removed and could not move themselves. The hospital was completely burned. The Germans have employed every conceivable type of warfare that can be imagined including explosive bullets, poisoned shrapnel, etc. We are building a large garage here with a six inch concrete floor."

The signing of the armistice was marked in French villages, as in this country, with great jubilee celebrations. Lieutenant Barber writes of the event as follows:

"Returned yesterday from a long trip. Just heard then of the armistice. Great joy and excitement in the town. I joined in for two hours, but was so dead tired after the trip, I turned into bed early as I have to go out early—4 A. M.—again tomorrow. The French like the Americans and will do anything they can to be kind to us. They say they will be sorry when the U. S. army goes home, but if I can go home any sooner by working 20 hours a day I'll do it. One chap said, "If I were told I could go home tomorrow I'd ask, why wait, why not go today?" I'll soon be with you. Remember me to all inquiring friends."

When Sound Carries Far.

We hear distinctly on a clear, frosty night because the air is denser than on a dull, warm night, and therefore carries the sound better. A motor car runs better on a frosty night because the engine gets larger supplies of oxygen.

Early Days of Mail Carrying.

Royal Mail vans, the driving of which is now intrusted to women chauffeurs, originated in the mail-coaches which were instituted in 1784 by Mr. John Palmer, M. P., for Bath, and manager of the Bath theater. He had to overcome strenuous opposition before he could induce Mr. Pitt to supersede Allen's system of postboys, whose contract rate of speed was five miles an hour.—London Times.

Many a towering business success owes its first strides to the little modest want ad, timidly bidding for customers.

Your little business may be helped to success in the same way.

That when the dooms are read,
Not high nor low shall say:
"My haughty or my humble head
Has saved me in this day."
That, till the end of time,
Their remnant shall recall
Their fathers' old confederate crime
Availed them not at all.

That neither schools or priests,
Nor Kings may build again
A people with the heart of beasts
Made wise concerning men.
Whereby our dead shall sleep
In honor, unbetrayer,
And we in faith and honor keep
That peace for which they paid.

Hate in a form of subtle suicide; it is "made of our blood, our health, our sleep and two-thirds of our love."

RENT AND HEAT ARE FREE FOR ECONOMY SHOP

Business at the Economy Shop in the building at Greenleaf and East Railroad avenues, is going on in full swing, according to members of the Wilmette Woman's club under whose auspices the shop is being conducted. The proceeds are applied to local charities.

The economy of the project even extends to the omission of rental and the supply of free heat through the courtesy of George F. Harding, Jr., owner of the building. With these items of expenditure omitted the business in the Shop is proceeding splendidly and the outlook for material benefit through this project to needy families in the Village is most encouraging.

The women request donations of cast-off clothing and all other useful and saleable articles including household necessities and ornaments.

Awaits Assignment

Lieutenant A. Bodine Southworth returned Monday morning from Camp Gordon, Ga., where he was recently commissioned lieutenant of Infantry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Southworth of 1010 Elmwood avenue and will remain in Wilmette until assigned to active service.

Religion which will not go with a man anywhere is not worth having anywhere.

WATKINS-HOPKINS CONCERT ATTRACTS LARGE AUDIENCE

Music lovers enjoyed a treat last Friday evening at the Watkins-Hopkins concert at the Wilmette Methodist church.

Three members of the group of entertainers were brothers from the Great Lakes naval training station, members of the Sousa band.

Others of the group who added much to the success of the evening were Mrs. Hopkins, pianist, little Miss Hopkins, a prodigy at the piano, Mrs. Watkins, soprano and reader, and Madame Sophia Stephala, opera singer.

The entertainment was conducted under the auspices of the Philathea Bible class of the Methodist church for the benefit of War Relief work.

NO QUARANTINE NOW, SAY HEALTH OFFICERS

Health conditions in Wilmette and Kenilworth are reported as favorable and the danger of a renewed outbreak of the Influenza epidemic so distant as not to warrant placing the Villages under quarantine, according to local Health authorities.

While Evanston and villages immediately north are under strict quarantine with cases of the sickness on the increase daily, conditions here were said to be favorable so that, at least for the present, there would be no quarantine order.
