Victory Liberty Loan

Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass has officially announced from Washington that the name of the next (fifth) war loan will be the "Victory Liberty Loan."

Originally it had been planned to call the next issue the "Fifth Liberty Loan, Victory Issue," but Secretary Glass, after giving the matter due consideration, finally brought for the happy combination "Victory Liberty Loan."

So "Victory Liberty Loan" it is, and it is believed that every worker will be inspired with renewed zeal to back it up to a victorious finish, and every consistent American patriot with the determination either to start saving or continue to save in order to acquire "Victory Liberty" bonds when they are offered next spring, and thus contribute to two patriotic ends, viz:

1. Bring the victors home.
2. Finish the job.

The honor flag of the Victory Liberty Loan will bear a blue "V" on a white field, surrounded by a red border, the "V" denoting both "five" (Fifth Loan) and "victory."

Employment for Soldiers

The State Council of Defense, (Woman's committee), is sending out the following information.

In order to facilitate turning back soldiers and sailors into civil life with as little confusion as possible, the U. S. Employment service has established a bureau at 116 North Dearborn street, Chicago, for the purpose of finding employment for the returning soldiers and sailors.

The State of Illinois has been divided into 21 employment districts. The securing of employment in each district is under the supervision of a central office. The location of these offices is as follows:

Alton, Bloomington, Centralia, Decatur, Elgin, Galesburg, Kankakee, Madison, Quincy, Rock Island, Waukegan, Aurora, Cairo, Danville, East St. Louis, Freeport, Joliet, La Salle, Peoria, Rockford, Springfield.

Every woman can help with this work by calling the attention of her husband, brother, father or other male relative and friends to these bureaus where they may obtain help for their office, factory, farm, or home. These bureaus present opportunities for securing high-grade men at the present time, who have initiative and experience, and who are physically fit and full of enthusiasm.

Star of Gold

Louis M. Bruch, Wilmette flyer, has made the supreme sacrifice. Today he lies buried at Inor on the Meuse river, France, nearby where he fell in his last heroic flight over the German lines. He is buried behind the Château, on a westerly hillside, overlooking the river.

"The Germans cannot last much longer," the young flyer predicted four days before the Armistice. He foresaw the end, though he did not live to see the great day of victory. He fell within the German lines on November 10, meeting instant death.

Lieutenant Bruch had been reported missing on November 10. The family waited and waited for official word, hoping that he might have escaped or fallen into the hands of the enemy, uninjured. Tuesday came the final word in a cablegram from Paris to the father of the pilot advising him of his son's death.

Only three days before the Armistice was signed Lieutenant Bruch wrote his family that he was preparing for a dash into Germany. He was a member of the famous 91st U. S. Aero Squadron, that has a long list of victories to its credit.

Lieutenant Bruch was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bruch, residents of Wilmette. He was 25 years old and had been engaged in the practice of law with Harry G. Colison at 136 South La Salle street, Chicago. He was admitted to the service only after repeated rejections. He underwent three operations at the Washington Park hospital and, after being turned down 17 times, was finally taken into the aviation service. Such men seldom come back from a war.

Lieutenant Bruch was a graduate of the University of Michigan where he distinguished himself in many activities, becoming editor of the "Michiganian" and elected a member of the Honor society of the University, "The Michiganian."

He was born in Chicago, August 5, 1893. He was a graduate of New Trier High school which he entered in the second year in 1910. He was president of his graduation class in 1912. He was a member of the Wilmette Episcopal church and for eight years was active in the Bible class of the church conducted by Mr. E. G. Bentley.

Lieutenant Bruch was admitted to practice in the United States courts after leaving Michigan University and elected a member of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

Two younger brothers of Lieutenant Bruch were in the service of their country. Merritt Bruch attended an officers' artillery training school at Fortress Monroe, Virginia. Ralph R. Bruch was in the engineering section of the student army training corps at the University of Michigan. The father, Louis Bruch, is vice-president of the American Radiator company.

SHERLAND WILL SELL ESSEX AUTOMOBILE AS WELL AS HUDSON

Marking a new departure in automobile making, the Essex car is being put on the market for the first time this year. It was announced this week and some of its details were given out.

Louis Sherland is the Evanston distributor for the car and he expects to have one on display in his show-rooms in Davis street, Evanston, within a few days.

The Essex is described as a small edition of a high-grade car. It goes in the medium price class, but its makers and distributors declare that in quality, appearance and style it ranks with the most expensive cars. It costs less because it is smaller and lighter.

Beauty in appearance and design and comfort and luxury in riding characteristics are combined with economy of gasoline, tires and general upkeep.

America's lack of just such a car as this was pointed out by a writer in the automobile number of Collier's Weekly recently. He was comparing American and European types. The Essex is an American adaption of a European type.

The car was developed two years ago, but America's entrance in the war prevented its production. In the intervening tryout and is presented a thorough tryout and is presented this season as a finished automobile.

Sherland will sell the Essex in addition to the complete line of Hudson super-sixes. In the Hudson cars he has returned to his old love, His sales of Hudsons up to one year ago were regarded as phenomenal. Last year he gave up the agency because of some misunderstanding. His return to the Hudson has already been marked by a large number of sales.

BAPTIST PASTOR RETURNS TO PULPIT FEBRUARY 23

Reverend Francis C. Stifler, pastor of the church, will return to the pulpit on Sunday, February 23, from Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he has been in charge of Y. M. C. A. work among the S. A. T. C. men at the University of Michigan. Reverend J. Heinrichs has been supplying the pulpit during Reverend Stifler's absence of 5 months.

In spite of the fact that the church has been practically pastorless since the pastor's enlistment in Y. M. C. A. work at the Great Lakes naval training station early in the war, the attendance in the congregation and Sunday school has steadily increased. The Baptist church is the youngest congregation in the Village.

PLAN COMMUNITY CHORUS AS LOCAL INSTITUTION

The Wilmette Sunday Evening club is fostering a movement for a Community Chorus in Wilmette. The leadership of Professor Osbourne McConathy, of the School of Music of Northwestern University, where he is in charge of the Department of Community Singing, has been secured and this feature will add helpful instruction to the pleasure of the project.

This chorus will be used primarily at the Sunday Evening club, but it is planned to use it elsewhere at community affairs.

Residents of the Village who enjoy singing have been invited to make themselves known to the committee of the club in charge of the venture. Evening rehearsals are planned for the near future.

Gold Once, Little Valued

Reverend Dr. W. E. Griffith says that it is historically true that in early Japan there were houses roofed with gold. For centuries, he says gold had little more value in Japan than in South America when Balboa sought the Pacific. Even until 1859 gold was worth only four times as much as silver.
