BAPTIST SERVICES IN BROWN BUILDING

Church Occupies New Temporary Location Pending Erection of New Church Edifice Here

SERVICES START SUNDAY

All Branches of the Church To Hold Meetings At New Location During Winter Months

On Sunday morning, September 7, members of the Wilmette Baptist church will meet for the regular Sunday services in the auditorium on the third floor of the Brown building, 1159 Wilmette avenue, near Central avenue. The auditorium has been occupied by the church as a temporary headquarters for all church activities pending completion of a church edifice in the Village, construction on which is expected to start as soon as the Building Trades' strike is settled. The new edifice is expected to be ready for occupancy early next spring.

Pipe Organ Installed

A pipe organ is installed in the Brown building auditorium and all conveniences provided for regular church services. The new location supplants the Wilmette Woman's club building as the temporary home of the church. This church is the latest organization in Wilmette, counting among its members residents from all north shore towns from Evanston to Glencoe.

On Sunday morning the pastor, Reverend Francis C. Stifler, will preach the first sermon of the new church year. His topic will be, "The Old, Old Story."

All Meetings in Auditorium

Regular Sunday school sessions will be held at the new location as well as meetings of all organizations of the church. Mid-week prayer services are to commence on Wednesday evening, September 10. The initial meetings of the deacons and trustees of the church and the Church Council, will be held Tuesday evening, September 9.

BICYCLE CRASHES INTO TRAIN; BOY LOSES RIGHT LEG

John Cornell and Robert Ault, each 8 years old and inseparable companions, lie on adjacent beds at the Evanston hospital, as the result of a serious accident Tuesday afternoon when a bicycle they were riding crashed into a Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee limited train.

The playmates were having the time of their lives Tuesday afternoon riding on the smooth pavements on John's new bicycle. John was on the seat and Robert perched high up on the handle-bars. At Ninth street and Greenleaf avenue the boys noticed a big steel electric train approaching southbound. John applied his coaster brake, slackening the speed of the bicycle as the big train passed. The first two cars of the train had passed when John lost control of the wheel and it crashed directly into the steel body of the rear coach.

The Cornell boy was thrown under the car, a wheel passing over his right foot crushing it off just above the ankle. His companion was thrown back to the curb and badly bruised, the hard pavement cutting a deep gash in his forehead.

The little fellows were rushed to the Evanston hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the Cornell boy's leg above the knee. It was first thought his injury would prove fatal but physicians, following an examination, expressed confidence that the boy would live. The Ault boy, though painfully bruised, was not seriously hurt, according to hospital attendants. He is suffering from the shock, it was said.

A blood transfusion operation was performed on the Cornell boy Tuesday evening, his father furnishing the blood.

John Cornell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell of 835 Oakwood avenue. Robert Ault is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest F. Ault, 918 Oakwood avenue.

Famous Gretna Green.

Gretna Green is a village of Dumfries, a border county of Scotland and near the border line between Scotland and England. Formerly a common resort of runaway couples from England, the practice was broken up by an act of 1856, which provided that no marriage should be valid in Scotland unless one of the parties had lived in Scotland for the 21 days next preceding the marriage, or had his or her usual residence there at the time.

First Known Use of Glass.

At Pompeii we find the first example of the use of glass, the window at the south end of the trepidarium of the Forum baths being filled with a frame of bronze and glass. It was not until the first and second centuries, however, that the window came into common utility in all buildings.

"Teddy's" Fighting Sons Visitors Here

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Captain Archibald Roosevelt were guests at the residence of Major E. J. Vattman, Sunday afternoon. Prominent residents of the Village, including representatives of the Village Board and all civic organizations, were invited to the home to meet the fighting sons of the illustrious "Teddy," at the informal reception. Many of those who gathered to meet the famous sons were present at a reception tendered their father in 1916.

Colonel Roosevelt, who is now engaged in a tour of principle cities of the United States in the interest of the American Legion, national organization of veterans of the great war, spoke briefly to the small group at the Vattman home.

He said in the course of his address that it was the consensus of opinion among leaders in the country that the present chaotic conditions with the rioting and strikes was only the beginning of what was expected in the near future. He stated that in making the American Legion one of the nation's most powerful organization it would be devoted, primarily, to the best interests of the United States.

Alluding to the problem of dealing with the aliens in this country he said they should be given the alternative of getting out of the country or taking immediate steps to become naturalized American citizens.

The colonel spoke at length of the late Colonel Roosevelt's high regard for and absolute confidence in Major Vattman who, he said, had been one of his father's most intimate friends and valued advisors.

Captain Archibald Roosevelt, who is engaged in business in Chicago, is soon to bring his family to Glencoe where they expect to make their permanent home.

Children Have Great Day At Playgrounds

Two hundred and fifty children and mothers attended a Field day at the Wilmette playgrounds, Thursday August 28, to compete in the annual set of races and other athletic contests.

Community House Movies

Wallace Reid in, "The Dub," was the attraction at the Community House today. The picture marks the re-opening of the theater which was closed during the month of August.

Gulls as Mice-Catchers.

A writer in California Fish and Game says that gulls when visiting the rivers and marshes of the interior valley of California, do not appear to be wholly scavengers or piscivorous. A California gull taken on March 12, 1912, along the San Quaquin river near Mendota, Fresno county, was presented to me. Upon dissection I was astonished to find its stomach filled with common black crickets and three whole field mice.

Dancing Has Deteriorated.

Dancing in its earliest form among primitive races, was a mode of expression for strong emotions, such as joy or sorrow, love and passion, and even for the most solemn religious sentiment, but in later ages it has become an amusement and has lost its high significance.

Perennial Relative.
Billy, six months old, wrote to his aunt the other day, and his mother thought best to read the letter before she mailed it: "Dear Aunt Gertrude: I go to school every day and take my lunch. I am well how are you. School is lots of fun, your undying newew, Billy."—Kansas City Star.

Uncle Eben.
"A whole lot of whut dey calls sports," said Uncle Eben, "consists in gittin' into a powerful fret over sumpin' dat dey wasn't no particular necessity fur."
