The members of the Woman's Guild of Christ church are planning to give a Holiday Fete at the Winnetka Woman's club on December 5 and 6. It will commence with a sale on Friday afternoon, December 5.

The principal attractions will be two plays produced under the direction of Mrs. Laird Bell and Mrs. Cornelius Lynde. The plays will be given in the evenings at 8:30 o'clock. There will be music and the program will be followed by dancing. On Saturday afternoon there will be a children's party with games and dancing and entertainment for the little tots.

Hold Specialty Sale

Tea will be served both Friday and Saturday.

At the booths, where articles will be sold continuously during the fete, will be found certain specialties for which the handiwork of the Guild women is famous, such as fluffy all-wool comforters, masterpieces of design and workmanship, and gay and charming aprons, calculated to make housework a pleasure even to the frivolous.

Every effort will be made to tempt the prospective purchasers to spend money and to see that they get full value for what they spend.

The chairmen of committees include, besides Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Lynde, Mesdames Lawrence Howe, John T. Boddie, John B. Guthrie, Harry L. Street, Ernest Ballard, Harve G. Badgerow, James G. Weart, Godfrey Atkins and Victor Elting.

The Community services, conducted each Sunday evening under the joint auspices of the all Protestant churches in Winnetka have proven an established success. The auditorium at Community House has been crowded each Sunday evening and an equally large attendance is expected this Sunday evening. Mr. Gosnell is a leader of national reputation in religious and educational circles and is expected to have a real message for Winnetkans Sunday evening.

Dr. Charles Zeublin, editor of the Twentieth Century Magazine, was the speaker last Sunday evening and gave a highly instructive address on the topic, "Faith under Fire."

DINNER FOR FORT SHERIDAN HOSPITAL BOYS NOVEMBER 7

A group of Winnetka women are planning to give a dinner for 100 Fort Sheridan men at Community House, Friday, November 7.

To defray the expenses of this dinner there will be a Bridge party in the Neighborhood room of Community House on Tuesday, November 4. Tables are to be four dollars each. Women who are interested are asked to call Mrs. Fred B. Thomas, phone Winnetka 494, and make arrangements for a table to help along this good undertaking. This is to be the last dinner this year so get ready for it and engage a table for the Bridge party.

"Only A Dollar A Piece", Is Slogan of Winnetka Red Cross Campaigners

Five Thousand women will rally to the Red Cross next week and seek to enroll a half million memberships for the coming year. In addition to the campaign for memberships a final war fund drive for $1,000,000 will be carried on.

That this final appeal for funds to provide for local, national and international post-war needs is necessary is shown by the budget of the American Red Cross for the coming year which asks $15,000,000 to complete its overseas work.

The government has entrusted to the Red Cross supplies aggregating more than $35,000,000—the salvage of war—which it is asked to distribute in relief work among the needy peoples of Europe. Much of this material is in medical equipment and perishable merchandise which requires the care of experts. Its distribution by the Red Cross will do much to alleviate distress in eastern and southern Europe.

Half of the funds which the Chicago chapter will endeavor to raise in its final war fund drive will meet the quota allotted the chapter by the national organization. Another $600,000 is needed by the local organization to carry on its home service work among men injured in the war and their families for the disaster relief program.

A war department order recently issued, requested the withdrawal on November 1 from Fort Sheridan and other army camps, of all welfare organizations with the exception of the Red Cross. This throws the entire burden of administering to the 3,000 sick and wounded soldiers, whose number is being increased daily, upon the Red Cross as the authorized government agent.

This work, augmented since the armistice rather than diminished, must continue for a year at least until families disorganized by the illness of service members or by their absence are entirely able to care for themselves. No matter what form of service is rendered whether vocational advice, adjustment of compensation claims or temporary loans to meet urgent necessities it is given as a partial return for the patriotic sacrifices of the men.

Home nursing courses to provide adequate training for women throughout the city are being offered in every community where a group of twenty women express a desire to gain expert knowledge of home care of the sick. Seventeen instructors who are Red Cross nurses as well as registered nurses are devoting their time to this work. All expenses for equipment and tuition are met by the local chapter. A merely nominal enrollment fee of a dollar is asked. There have been 347 graduates in this course during the past year. Special dietetic instruction is included in the 15 lessons in the newly revised course in which 53 classes are now being conducted.

A simplified course, adapted to the needs of Junior Red Cross members, was introduced into seventeen of the city schools on October 14th. Classes for boys have been organized in several schools in the congested districts where in case of illness they are often asked to carry out the doctors instructions. These 69 classes at present limited to the seventh and eighth grades, will carry a message of sanitation and comfort into thousands of homes.

Even classes for boys have been formed in some of the congested districts where boys often help in nursing the sick.

Reorganization of the four base hospitals from Chicago which served overseas has already been authorized by Washington authorities. Equipment to meet any emergency will be stored in a government warehouse and a personnel of doctors and nurses will be held in reserve for immediate service. Marquis Eaton, chairman of the Chicago chapter has already received instructions to remobilize these hospitals immediately following the campaign.

The thousands of members who have proven their loyalty to the Red Cross organization in the past are being relied upon to pledge their belief in its future by renewed memberships and subscriptions. The drive starts November 2 and continues through November 11.

Mrs. Harry F. William, 650 Sheridan road, has accepted the chairmanship for Winnetka and will be assisted by a committee of the following women: Mesdames Arthur Dean, James G. Weart, Gustav Haas, Leon J. Longini, Mabel R. Windes, Fred B. Thomas, Laird Bell, J. R. Fletcher, Forbes Cadenhead, H. A. deWindt, Lawrence M. Stein, George Massey, Raymond Hardenberg. Mr. William Whitaker will also assist the committee.

YOUNG PEOPLES COMMUNITY DANCES PLAN FOR HOLIDAYS

Reorganization To Become Effective This Evening; Drop Navy League Features

The Young Peoples Community Dance organization will meet this evening at Community House to formulate plans for winter entertainments. With the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays close at hand, arrangements must be made immediately for these events.

An entire reorganization of these dances will take place. Plans for the new organization will be presented this evening when an intermission in the dancing will be called so that a short business meeting can take place. Great interest has been aroused in the forthcoming selection of a new leader of the dances.

Dances have been held on alternate Saturday evenings since May with celebrations for the 149th field artillery and a Halloween party a few weeks ago. There are over 200 members in the organization and it is maintained by the young people for the young people. Admission is by application for membership and the dues are exceptionally small.

HOLDS PUBLIC MUST SETTLE LABOR TANGLE

Dr. Graham Taylor Tells Members of Men's Club of Winnetka the Public Must Intervene in Big Struggle

SUGGESTS LABOR LAWS

Calls Gary Attitude Unfair and Labor Group Resolutions At Conference Fair

Eighty members of the Men's club of Winnetka met in one of the most enthusiastic gatherings in the history of the club Monday evening when they heard an able discussion and review of the present day labor situation in the United States.

Dr. Graham Taylor, labor investigator at Gary and other strike centers presented an intimate view of the general labor situation explaining the weaknesses and commendable points of both labor and capital not failing, as well, to draw conclusions and recommend remedial measures to bridge the gap between the two factions and to bring harmony out of the present chaotic industrial conditions.

Need Public Intervention

Dr. Graham emphasized above all the positive necessity of public intervention in the industrial field. He pointed out that the struggle between capital and labor was hopeless and could never be equitably adjusted without the intervention of the public. The public, he said, must be the arbiter. The public is the most vitally affected by any industrial upheaval. The public suffers most from strikes and lockouts and represents the rank and file of the nation and must take a hand in the matter.

Settlement of the Industrial dispute must be through regulation through public agencies, said Mr. Taylor, after asserting that he did not imply by that statement government ownership or management, to both of which he expressed opposition, but, rather, regulation through such agencies as have to do with the regulation of public utilities and matters pertaining to the railroads.

Legislation Necessary

Dr. Taylor also stated that additional legislation looking toward regulation of wages and labor conditions was also essential.

The speaker stated he was neither for nor against the open or closed shop, adding that local conditions were the criterion in that regard. He asserted that, in his opinion, while the steel strike is a failure president Gary had been unfair in his determination not to meet the workers halfway on a basis of compromise. He expressed himself as favorable to the action of the Labor group at the recent Washington Industrial conference where, he said, capital had contrived to read a sinister meaning into the labor resolutions.

Dr. Taylor told of his interviews with labor leaders, pickets, military commanders and Steel company officials at Gary. He stated further that he found in some instances men were forced to work on twenty-four hour shifts and on the twelve hour day basis.

His final conclusion was that the labor group must be given a square deal, that conditions universally should be such as to make unnecessary sympathetic strikes in the future though often they had been warranted in the past.
