CONFEDERACY TO RAISE LARGEST SERVICE FLAG

The largest service flag in the country, containing 187,948 stars, representing the grandsons of confederate veterans who were in the service with the war against Germany and the central powers, is soon to be hung in confederate headquarters in Memphis.

George H. Bowling, quartermaster-in-chief, adjutant-in-chief and chief of staff of the Tennessee division of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, who was named custodian of the flag at the recent convention held in Atlanta, is to have charge of the flag. Each star on the flag represents a grandson of a confederate veteran.

SANDY HOOK PROVING GROUND TO BE GIVEN UP

The Sandy Hook proving ground will be abandoned as such by the war department in the near future and tests for big guns will be made at Aberdeen, Md. This is due to the crowded condition of New York harbor and frequent interference with traffic.

An investigating board recommended that the post be utilized by the middle Atlantic artillery district as a vocational school for training enlisted men and officers for short periods in practical artillery. The shops and storehouses will be turned over to the engineers' department.

RIGHT PIVOT

A darky was unloading horses and when he had the halter hanks of six horses he started up the road toward camp and the road turned sharply to the right; in fact, it made a right angle with its previous course.

At this point the darky with his six halter hanks experienced some difficulty in getting all the horses to make the turn and he was heard to shout: "Here, what's the matter with you all? Don't you all know how to make a turn to da right? Number one pivot! Pivot dar on the right."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

WHERE IS TESCHEN?

This is the latest breakfast-table problem. Although the town has figured prominently in European history at various times for over a century, Lloyd George had to confess, when it was mentioned at the peace conference, that he did not know exactly where it was situated.

Nor was he alone in his lack of knowledge! It is doubtful if one person in fifty would be able to give you any information about the town.

And yet it was once the scene of a great peace conference—that of 1779, when Vergennes, the foreign minister of France, arranged the peace of Teschen, thereby avoiding a great European war, and also, in all probability, securing the independence of the United States.

LAW AND ORDER

"I am a believer in unions. I am an honorary member of one union. But the union must obey the law, just as the corporation must obey the law, just as every man, rich or poor, must obey the law. As yet no action whatever has been called for by me, but most certainly if action is called for by me I shall try to do exact justice under the law to every man so far as I have power. But the

The Salon Sedan

AS a family car, for year 'round use, the Lexington Salon Sedan has won instant favor. The mechanical perfection of the famous Lexington chassis has been matched with smartness of coach work, upholstery, and finish.

Refinement and elegance are evident without being carried to the point of extravagance. This car unites beauty and distinction with the practical qualities of performance and economy which appeal to those who require full value in their car.

The Lexington Salon Sedan is roomy, with ample space for five passengers. Plate glass windows are set in grooves, making it possible to have an entirely open or closed car at will.

Exclusive Lexington features, including the Moore Multiple Exhaust System, non-rattle frame, one-finger emergency brake, oilless bushing, and non-metallic universal joints, insure a performance as gratifying as this car's splendid appearance.

Let us show you this remarkable car
