Proceeds from the sale of "The House of the Good Neighbor," by Esther Lovejoy, up to date have amounted to about one hundred dollars, and are to be turned over to the Serbian relief committee at an early date, according to Mrs. Morris L. Greeley. Dr. Alice Barlow Brown, who sailed a fortnight ago for Serbia, is working under the Reconstruction committee of the Medical Women's National association, which is affiliated with the American Red Cross, the American Committee for Devastated France, the National League for Women's Service, the Serbian Relief Committee, the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, and the Wellesley College Relief Unit in France. A clipping from the Buffalo Evening News describes the story as follows:

"It is not a novel, but deals with facts, presented in such a vivid, impressive style that you are not satisfied to leave a page unread, for here is a human document, free from the rather narrow sectional glimpses which too many of our war books give us, and throbbing with life, the spiritual essence which touches our sympathies, broadens our mentalities and gives us a new grasp on a little of what all this destruction has meant to woman.

"For instance, it is a woman's book, frank and open discussion of woman's contribution to the horror of war, her priceless gift of womanhood.

"No one has approached this, the most vital of all issues, as Dr. Lovejoy has approached it. She treats the national problem of 'Infant Industry' as the women and mothers have faced it, and must face it in the present and future if war continues.

"Here is the war at a new angle—the one we want most to know about, for, after all it is woman's agony and pain that delivers her first born and dedicates him to what? Life or death, peace or war, the Moloch of man's greed for more money and more power, or for the Great Brotherhood of Man? Which shall it be?"

"In the end woman must decide all future wars as Dr. Lovejoy's book concludes and every woman and every woman's son should read this volume even though it wrenches from us all our last barbaric taste of war in any form, under any cloak.

"Dr. Esther Lovejoy, the author, is an American woman, a physician of international reputation and standing and a writer of powerful genius. She calls her book 'The House of the Good Neighbor' and the title has a symbolic meaning which carries through every chapter."

Sixteen Years Experience

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

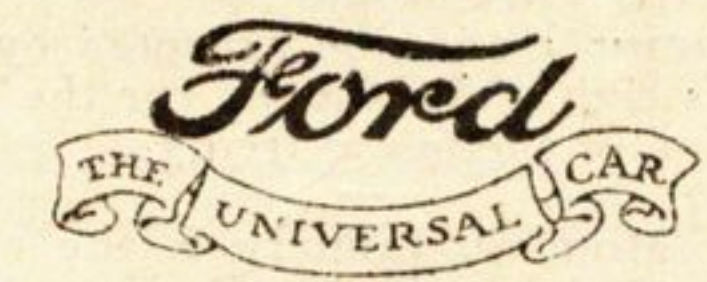

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts, buy them only from Authorized Ford Dealers. Likewise bring or take your Ford car to our garage for repairs, replacements, and general "tuning up."

We are Authorized Ford Dealers. We can supply you with Ford parts for either passenger car or truck. And our shop is equipped to give real Ford service in all repair work.
