Too Busy To Report

No physician should be "too busy" to report to the health department cases of influenza which come to his knowledge. Any physician who refuses his co-operation with the health commissioner for this reason should be looked upon with considerable suspicion by those whose cases he fails to report.

The experience of last year's epidemic of influenza was certainly tragic enough to encourage the exercise of every precaution against its repetition. The heavy toll should serve as an incentive for the strictest control of the cases that have developed within the last two weeks.

Appreciation of the heavy burden of work that the medical profession must carry in a period of epidemic of any sort is not incompatible with the severest condemnation of those who fail to help the health department to control the spread of disease. It is no time for the exercise of individual opinion and judgment. Consideration of the efficient working of the department of health should be first in the minds of the whole community. Physicians are setting a bad example by declining to observe the orders of the health commissioner, an example which is only too readily followed by individuals whose social consciences are in poor working order.

Watch The Convention

The Constitutional Convention is now in regular session, beginning work upon the new constitution which shall serve as the basic law of Illinois for another generation, longer if the men who are composing it are possessed of the vision that they ought to possess and the people of the state are appreciative of the conditions which such a code must meet.

The men who compose the Constitutional Convention have been chosen by the people of their district to represent them in this business of the creation of the new law. That they do actually represent the districts from which they come should be the responsibility of the people who sent them there. It will not do to dismiss the matter of the constitution with placing the responsibility upon the heads of the delegates. What they do in the discharge of this responsibility must be a matter of concern to every man and woman in the state.

When the labors of the convention have been completed the work of the constitution will come before the electorate of the state for ratification. It is to the interests of all concerned that the finished product should be as nearly perfect as it is possible for it to be, in order that the time and the money which the convention will consume may not have been spent in vain. Public attention and the expression of public opinion on the work of the convention as it goes on will help to keep before the minds of the delegates the fact that they are responsible to the people who elected them, that their interests must be considered and protected, that their work must be such as will be accepted when the referendum is held.

Intelligent attention on the part of the public ought to be sought by the delegates. It will help them to an understanding of the public mind and guide them in their work in the formulation of the constitution. But this public attention to be effective for good must be above sectionalism, above party political considerations, above selfish motives of every sort. It is a large order of good citizenship that is demanded of the Illinois public at this time, as well as of the delegates to the convention. But it is not impossible for the conditions to be met.

LOCAL YOUTH PRODUCES TWO-REEL MOVIE FILM

Sidney Spiegel, Jr., 430 Sheridan road, is the producer of a two-reel movie of good prospects.

The title at present, which will probably be changed, is, "The Kiss by Mistake" but the story itself is even more interesting than the name.

It deals with a young fellow summoned to the aid of a girl in distress. He goes to see her, is given a mysterious package and told to call again soon. He makes a mistake by entering the wrong house on the second trip. Matters are mixed up suddenly by a batch of spies who seek the valuable, yet mysterious papers. The picture concludes with the hero holding the trump card after a sensational chase on the water to the heroine's yacht.

The hero in the case is Carlyle Blackwell, and the young woman he rescues is popularly known as Evelyn Greeley. The scenes, especially the closing ones of the case, are interesting and well staged.

The film was made from a number of World releases after Spiegel had written the story and gained the consent to use the films for his purpose.

REDS TAKE LEAGUE HONORS IN SUNDAY AFTERNOON GAME

The Reds, piloted by Flossie Voltz and Goody, won the first league pennant at Community House Sunday in a play-off game with the White Sox, the final count being 13-3.

Flossie pitched wonderful ball holding the losers to several bingles and nary a run for the first eight innings. Meanwhile his team-mates were slamming the ball to all corners of the "lot" giving him a comfortable lead to pitch with.

The game was played as a result of a tie for first place between the Reds, Giants and Pale Hose. The Giants were eliminated last week by the Sox.

BACK AT WORK

Fred Eckart, of the J. F. Eckart Hardware company, returned to his duties this week following several days' illness with the influenza.

NORTH SHORE AUTO SALON FEBRUARY 2-7

First North Shore Automobile Salon at North Shore Hotel to Display Variety of Exclusive Passenger Models

EXHIBIT IN BALL ROOM

Leading Manufacturers of Highest Class Motor Cars to have Exhibits Throughout Week

The ball room of the North Shore hotel will be the scene of the north shore's first automobile salon. The exhibition, which is expected to feature some of the finest cars in America will open on February 2 and continue until the night of February 7.

There will be several north shore cars entered in the show, as well as a number with Distributors in Chicago.

Exclusive Territory

Manufacturers of fine cars have selected the north shore as the place to give an intimate and exclusive showing of their product, because of the fact that this vicinity is far above the average in number of cars owned here.

The latest records show that there are approximately 5,500 automobiles on the north shore, and that there are probably more cars of the so-called exclusive and high priced class than is the case in any other neighborhood of like population in the country.

Because of the size of the hotel ball room, the number of cars permitted to be exhibited is limited. Among those which have been announced as entered are: Cadillac, Packard, Dorris, Cole, Roamer, Revere, Nelson, Chandler, American and Moon.

North Shore Exhibitors

The Starnes, Clayton Motor company and Metz and Hart will be among the north shore exhibitors.

It is expected that everybody on the north shore who is interested in automobiles, whether owners or prospective owners or not, will visit this exhibition on one day or another.

In order to give a further touch of gaiety to the occasion and to express the cordiality of the relationship between the automobile dealers and the public, there will be dancing Monday and Friday nights in the fountain room. One of the best orchestras in Chicago has been engaged for the week.

Extra! Leap Year Conspiracy Here

Daniel Cupid Takes Flying Start and Successfully Attacks Ice Company Swains

Leap Year is playing first class havoc with the stalwart swains of the North Shore Distilled Water and Ice company. Within the past two weeks Daniel Cupid did some swift splicing jobs. Result: three of the husky men are safely tucked away in the land of matrimony.

We'll start at the beginning. On January 10 E. J. Peterman, chief engineer at the plant walked to the altar with one Mabel Anderson of Oak Forest. They have occupied "Melborne Cottage" on Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods.

On January 10 Otto Fehringer, tank foreman, went to the little church with Helen Burgess of Chicago.

On Thursday afternoon of this week Alvin Melhorn, engineer, and Geeda Halquist were solemnly pronounced man and wife.

Looks like a conspiracy doesn't it?

DOROTHY KUHE, 10 YEARS OLD, WAS BURIED MONDAY

Dorothy Kuhe, 10-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kuhe, 1189 Oakley avenue, Hubbard Woods, was buried Monday at Memorial Park, following funeral services at the home.

She died of pneumonia, contracted from influenza Saturday. She was ill only three days.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME

Fire partially destroyed the home of Henry P. Stanton, 635 Blackthorne road, Wednesday morning. The fire destroyed the parlor on the first floor and rooms above. Damage was estimated at $1,500. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Parmelee of 512 Roslyn road, Kenilworth, of the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte, to Samuel Loomis Hypes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hypes of 1126 Michigan boulevard, Evanston.

Miss Margaret Meloney, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meloney, 1097 Oak street, is ill with the measles.

ENGLISH SCOUTS CABLE THANKS TO THOSE HERE

When the Prince of Wales left these shores, he took with him to the Boy Scouts of Great Britain the greetings of their scout brothers in America. An invitations was also sent for the English scouts to pay a visit here.

The following cable message has come to the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America from General Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell: "Our hearty thanks to brother scouts of America for inspiring greeting brought by Prince of Wales."

As you may have noticed, sugar that was scarce at eleven cents per pound is plentiful at 22 cents.—Little Rock, Arkansas, Democrat.

What would you do without Newspaper Advertisements?

What if there were no advertisements in any newspaper?

Lost and found articles might never be restored to their owners. Buying, selling and renting houses would be greatly delayed.

Merchants would be compelled to depend almost entirely upon those who passed by their stores for their trade.

Such a condition would set the hands of the clock of progress back two hundred years. It would limit trade. It would bring delays and annoyances and make purchasing risky and expensive.

This goes to show how important newspaper advertisements have become in our everyday affairs.

Read them fully and faithfully. It may mean many added advantages in your life and dollars in your pocket-book.
