An "over the top fund"—the surplus above and beyond the $100,000 which Northwestern university students plan to raise next week—is to be originated by the alumnae of the Pi Beta Phi sorority at the Evanston institution by means of a matinee dance at the North Shore hotel on Saturday afternoon of this week. The dance, while under the auspices of the alumnae of the sorority, is being ardently promoted by undergraduate members who are selling tickets rapidly. Among the patrons and patronesses for the affair are

Mr. and Mrs. John O. King, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raeder, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Mallory. Refreshments will be served and no inconsiderable addition to the fund is hoped for from this source. Inasmuch as the student general fund of $1000,000 is to be collected by classes, money derived from this dance and from other social affairs during the coming week will be applied to the "over the top" fund, thus avoiding possibility of classes indulging in a friendly dispute over such proceeds.

"Within the Law" is to be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week at New Trier Township High school by students of the college of Liberal arts at Northwestern university. The cast has been coached by Oliver Hinsdell.

Miss Thelma FitzWilliams of Evanston, who recently was awarded second place in the recent Kirk Oratorical contest held at the university, will take the leading role.

This unique collection is the property of FREDERICK C. AUSTIN, one of Chicago's foremost as well as one of its most discriminating collectors of art known in the middle west—comprising Buhl, Chippendale, Adams and Italian Renaissance furniture, 125 genuine antique Oriental rugs, many of which are museum pieces, rare paintings by old masters such as Reubens, Paul Veronese, August Riedel, Meissonier—also Wedgwood, Spode and Royal Worcester china and vases.

Interior of a palace in Armenia, Mosaic inlaid with colored woods and pearl, hand carved. It took an entire family of eight persons seventeen years to do the carving alone. This work took first prize at several of the greatest World's Expositions including the Chicago World's Exposition. Would make a beautiful wainscoting for a living room.

A pottery tea kettle purchased by Chas. L. Tiffany of Tiffany & Co., New York, many years ago in China, said to be nearly five thousand years old.

Silverware, embroideries, tapestry, portieres, etc., etc. This wonderful collection—the most wonderful ever offered in Chicago—is the result of extensive travel abroad, and was purchased for the pure love of the beautiful.
