

"LET'S BE FAIR" SAYS PHONE USER

Holds Cost of Telephone To Subscriber Has Not Increased in Proportion to Value of the Invention

By O. J. H.

How few of us in these days of hustle and bustle stop long enough to give a passing thought to that man who, never daunted by failure, persisted until he had made speech over wire, through the air, possible. Contrast that period in our social and business development with conditions today and give a passing thought to the men and women who have and are now devoting their time and energy to fully develop this wonderfully useful and labor saving invention.

In the old days solicitors were sent to cities and towns almost begging people to take a telephone in their place of business or residence, often meeting with rebuffs. Why this change?

Today the telephone is almost as essential to the business man as the goods on his shelf. Again why?

Change Through Education

The answer is—Education in modern methods, and now realizing its value has the cost to the patrons increased in proportion to its value? In the old days only a few were farsighted enough to see its value. Today not only the people in cities and towns know its value, but the farmer as well is within speaking range of our voice, and it is well to realize that each new subscriber has made each other's telephone more valuable, but again, has the cost to the subscriber increased in proportion to its value? Let's admit with the high cost of labor and material that it has not. And let's be fair, let's help the Telephone company get an increase in rates to meet these present costs. Let's be fair.

Ravinia Park Season To Open on June 26

Scotti to Appear as Scarpia in "Tosca" at the Opening Performance; Papi Directs

Ravinia Grand Opera season will open June 26 with Scotti in "Tosca". Mr. Scotti will be at Ravinia practically the entire season. Other artists include Hackett of the Metropolitan Opera Company, de Angelo, Edith Mason, Florence Easton and a Spanish coloratura. Both Mr. Hagemann and Mr. Papi will be at Ravinia, as directors the entire season.

Ravinia prides itself in laying the foundation for musical culture among the youth of the north shore and Thursday afternoons the doors are thrown open free to the children, rich and poor alike, which makes the cause worth time and effort. It is nationally and internationally recognized as a musical center of the greatest artistic success. It is hoped everyone will look on this as a civic responsibility and support the cause.

GRANDSON OF NOTED HOTEL MAN BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Funeral services for Alexander J. Hannah, grandson of the late A. D. Hannah, proprietor of the Brevoort hotel, were held from his late residence, 256 Woodstock avenue, Kenilworth, Tuesday, June 1. Mr. Hannah died Saturday. Interment was private at Calvary.

Mr. Hannah was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Hannah. Services were held at St. Francis Xavier's church.

No wonder the old-timers are demanding long skirts. They covered a multitude of shins.
