Gold Star Hero Honored For Bravery Under Fire

Homer Everett Wilson Decorated by American Field Service; Parents Get Medal

Extraordinary distinction is accorded a Wilmette war hero in the announcement this week of the receipt of a medal from the American Field Service by the parents of Homer Everett Wilson who died January 13, 1918, seven months after his return from the battlefields of France. The decoration is in recognition of exceptional bravery under fire. Wilson and companions in the French Camion service stayed by their ammunition trains under heavy German artillery fire. Wilson joined the French army as camion driver in 1917 after he had volunteered and was rejected from the American army because of eye trouble. When the camion service came under direction of the American Field Service he was again rejected and joined the American Red Cross in Paris as driver of a staff officer's car. Six months later he returned to Wilmette on leave. Soon after his return he became critically ill as the result of the strenuous demands of the service. At the time of his death he had completed preparations to join the French artillery service. The medal was received by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, 729 Greenwood avenue.

WILL GIVE PICNIC
 The Evanston Crescents, formerly the Bulla Bulla club, are extending invitations to everyone to attend their big picnic and dance at the United States Forest Preserve at Riverside on Sunday afternoon. The dancing will begin at 3 o'clock and terminate at 9 o'clock. Everything will be free. The program is in charge of "Baumy" who is well known on the north shore through his connections with many popular dances at Jones' hall.

BOY SCOUT SHOWS HE CAN BE A REAL COPPER

Magnus Martin, boy scout, played the role of gallant the other day when he recovered a purse from a group of caddies at the Indian Hill Golf club who had filched the pocket-book from Mrs. John Pappajohn, when she was taking luncheon at the Indian Hill Inn.

The boys started across a field toward the golf course when Mrs. Pappajohn discovered the theft. Young Martin, who was in the place, overheard the woman's plight and started out after the miscreants. He succeeded in wresting the empty purse from them after considerable struggle. Later the caddy-master at the club extracted the money from the youngsters who admitted their well planned "robbery". "I think every boy should become a Scout," was Mrs. Pappajohn's comment on the heroic efforts of young Martin.
