

NORTH SHORE MARKET ATTRACTS HOUSEWIVES

Women from Rogers Park to Lake Forest Patronize Vegetable Market at Linden Avenue "L" Terminal

MARKET IDEA SPREADING

Proposed Garden Market at Evanston Expected to Open on Monday, August 16.

The North Shore Garden market in operation for two weeks at Linden avenue and Fourth street, Wilmette, has proven an entirely successful venture, according to Paul Schroeder, who has sponsored the project.

Tuesday of this week was the biggest day since the opening of the tri-weekly market. More than fifteen farmers and truck gardeners were at the market place with a good variety of vegetables and early fruits. Potatoes and sweet corn headed the sales' lists and sold out early in the day. Early apples were disposed of rapidly. There has been a strong demand for corn and it is expected the sellers will enlarge the quantities brought to the market for Thursday and Saturday.

Justice Sells Out

Justice Otto Falk, who owns a farm on Glenview road, west of Wilmette, loaded his Ford touring car with apples early Tuesday morning and proceeded to the market place. He went home "sold out" before the morning was half over. "I didn't think it could be done," he commented.

The popularity of the north shore market is demonstrated in the results of a survey Tuesday which showed that housewives from Rogers Park to Lake Forest were availing themselves of the opportunity to purchase fresh vegetables and fruit directly from the producers and at a considerable saving. There were women from every village and town along the north shore at the Tuesday market and the news of its merits is spreading into every home in this vicinity.

The success of the North Shore market has led to the proposed establishment of a market in the heart of the Evanston (Davis street) district. This market, which is to be opened on Monday, August 16, will be conducted on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while the North Shore market will operate as usual on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

INDIAN HILL CHEF SPILLS THE BEANS

Hits Evanston Traffic Policeman; Guests of Golf Club Almost Miss Their Breakfast

It was close to midnight. The hot wind lazily fanned the listless air. All day Sunday had been like that—hot, sweltering, torrid. At Dempster street and Ridge avenue, Evanston, Traffic Policeman Ernest Otto had dodged automobiles all afternoon. Since midday he had hardly had time to rub the perspiration from his face. But for the last hour traffic had slowed down. A tired dog snapped viciously at a late flying mosquito and passed on.

"Gad, I'm glad for a rest," muttered Otto to himself, rubbing the dust from his war club on the trousers' leg of his uniform. His thoughts were turning to the good old days at Patee when, suddenly, nearby residents were awakened by a stream of overseas language. A police club sailed wildly through the air. Officer Otto was flat on his back. A speeding auto skidded to a stop amid a stream of Latin-American questions.

Taken to Station

"A pretty kettle of fish I've cooked," cried the driver of the automobile, no less a person than Angelo De Carlo, chef at the Indian Hill Country Club, as they took him to the police station.

"A cook, eh!" ejaculated Sergeant Johnson, on night duty, when De Carlo was taken before him. "Well, what have you to say? Been eating too much plum pudding, cause?"

De Carlo had nothing to say. He was busily thinking of the guests of the club, who were in danger of missing breakfast. He stood silent while guests of the Indian Hill club slept on unconscious of the impending catastrophe.

Reminiscent Odors

Meanwhile the prisoners in the cells below the police station began to stir uneasily. A gentle atmosphere of grilled steaks, frying doughnuts, Italian spaghetti filled the station and penetrated to the dungeons. A colored man locked up for disturbing the peace wiped his mouth.

"This must be a great feeding house," he smiled to himself as he returned to his slumbers.

Judge John F. Boyer was notified. "Arrested a cook, have you?" and anticipatory visions of a fine juicy cherry pie or a plate of fried cakes left surreptitiously at the doorstep smote him. "Turn him loose on bonw," shouted the judge.

De Carlo was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and allowed to return to the village in the north. Members of the club will learn how narrowly they missed their breakfast when they read this.

NEW TRAFFIC LAWS FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

Speeders To Be Severely Dealt With According To Provisions of the Latest Rulings

Campaign in the interest of safety on highways in the State of Illinois and which is expected to reach every community in the state was begun this week by Secretary of State Louis S. Emerson. Mr. Emerson has issued a digest of the safety-first laws governing automobile drivers, and calling attention to the necessity of strict observance of these laws if the highways are to be safe.

The following provisions will be of interest to motorists of the village.

Among the provisions of the law to which attention is called in the pamphlet are the following:

Railroad Crossings

No automobile must be driven over a railroad grade crossing at a speed exceeding 10 miles per hour, and at all grade crossings where "stop" signs are placed the car must be brought to a full stop before proceeding over the crossing.

The speed limit at which an automobile can be driven is 10 miles per hour in the business sections of cities; 15 miles per hour in the resident sections; 20 miles per hour inside city limits, but outside the business or resident sections, and not to exceed 30 miles per hour on the public highway.

Every motor must be equipped with good brakes and a suitable signalling device.

May Revolve License

The license of a chauffeur may be revoked on the grounds of drunkenness, and a drunken driver may be fined $200 and sentenced to jail for 60 days.

No person under fifteen years of age is permitted to drive an automobile on the public highway unless accompanied by the owner of the vehicle or a licensed chauffeur.

A vehicle approaching from the right has the right-of-way.

Keep to the right in passing a vehicle coming from the opposite direction.

Concerning Signals

Signal and pass to the left of a vehicle going in the same direction. The driver must signal his intention of turning or stopping by outstretched arm, or otherwise.

An automobile must not be driven within ten feet of a street car loading or discharging passengers, except by the express direction of a traffic officer.

CYCLIST INJURED

G. R. Schink, 3519 Wilson avenue, Chicago, was injured when he fell from a bicycle while riding through the village on Green Bay road last Friday. Theodore Anderson, 1011 Spruce was a witness of the accident.

MYRTLE M. ALSCHULER, OPERA SINGER, IS DEAD

Myrtle Moses Alschuler, well known concert singer and a member of the Chicago opera for the last five years, died at her home in Wilmette, Wednesday night. She had been ill for seven months.

Mrs. Alschuler, who was a mezzo soprano, was trained by Jean de Reszke and in 1915 joined the Chicago Opera company after doing concert work all over the country for several years.

Some of the parts Mrs. Alschuler has taken are Emilia in "Otello," Mercedes in "Carmen," and the maid Suzuki in "Madame Butterfly."

Mrs. Alschuler is survived by her husband, Samuel G. Alschuler, and two brothers, Mort and Harry M. Moses.

MOTOR COP HOODOO

J. H. Campbell, 271 Scott avenue, Hubbard Woods, has come to the conclusion that Motorcycle Policeman Clement Ley of Kenilworth is a jinx for him. When he was fined $10 and costs by Justice Mickey Wednesday afternoon it was the third time he had been asked to pay because of the Kenilworth policeman.

What Makes a Bank?

Well, our answer to that question is that it is the men behind the bank, the men interested in its management, the men who stand for business integrity and square dealing.

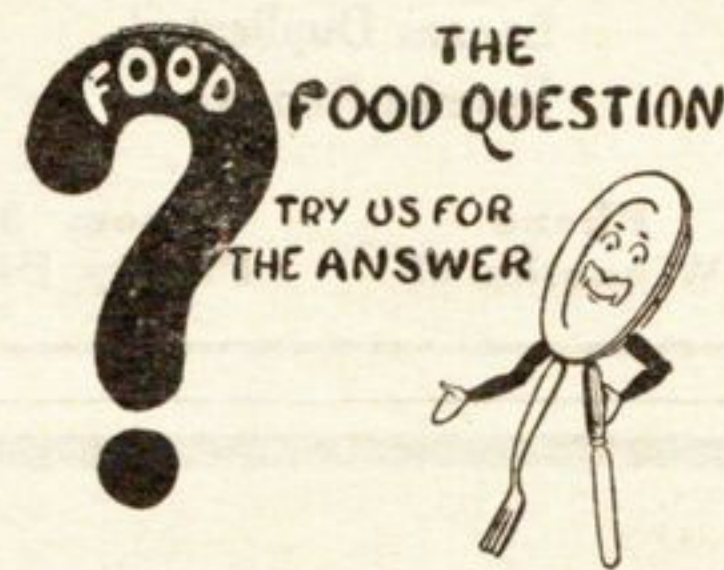

The officers of our bank are accomodating and willing to extend you every courtesy. Our directors are not figureheads, they actually direct the affairs of the bank, and know how its business is conducted. Our stockholders are among the solid men of the community. These are what it takes to make a good bank, in our judgment, a safe place for you to do business. We invite you to join us.
