

'BUNDLE DAY' IS SET FOR THURSDAY, AUG. 25

Chicago and Suburbs To Be Canned on that Day in Interest of Suffering Armenians

August 25 is to be "Bundle Day" in Chicago and suburbs to provide clothing for the suffering orphans and women in Armenia, where the people shiver six months in the year. There are thousands of poor, ragged and almost naked refugees in the Near East, and a special appeal is being made by the Near East Relief to the people of Chicago to send either new or used clothing to 15 North Franklin street, Chicago, on "Bundle Day" that these homeless people may not suffer this winter. P. J. Byrne, state secretary for the Near East Relief in Illinois, in announcing "Bundle Day", enumerated the following articles as those most needed by the hungry, homeless Armenians: coats, dresses, sweaters, skirts, blankets, petticoats, overcoats, woolen shirts, woolen scarves, heavy hose, heavy underwear, heavy wrappers, woolen gloves and mittens, boots and shoes, felt slippers and children's clothes of every sort.

Laundries Co-operate

The Chicago Laundry Owner's association is co-operating to make "Bundle Day" a success. All its members have agreed to send out with every bundle of laundry a slip containing a special appeal for clothes for the suffering women and children in the Near East. Secretary Byrne of the Near East Relief, in his appeal, points to the fact that the cost and trouble of giving this aid will be slight, as the clothing may be sent by parcel post.

Miss Gertrude Pearson, of 412 North Grove street, Chicago, who recently returned from the Near East, where she was a relief worker in one of the orphanages, said she saw women and girls of delicate breeding in the scantiest of clothing, many of them in rags. She declared that the poor and formerly well to do in Armenia will have no clothing this winter, unless the American people come to the rescue with what they can spare. Speaking of the sufferings she witnessed while a relief worker, Miss Pearson said:

Without Clothing

"In the fields I saw men, women and children running naked; those in the cities were huddled together in the remains of ruined buildings in filthy rags; there were no liveable houses; there was no food except what was furnished by the Near East Relief. Many of the people were numbed with suffering. The children were half dead with hunger. In one room, where 500 of them were huddled together, I saw a little girl whose body and face were swollen beyond human semblance through starvation. The winters in Armenia are a rigorous as in our own Rockies. Surely the American people will not permit these suffering Christians to suffer when the clothing they can spare will keep these poor women and children warm."

THE COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

Nearly all the big newspapers have space regularly devoted to jests on the village newspapers. Perhaps to city readers it matters little whether Tom Jones visited Dave Smith and his wife last Sunday—or whether Tim Howe built a new barn—and perhaps Tim Howe's barn is not as imposing as some of the big structures in the big cities, but all the same, these little personal mentions tell a story of vital interest to the community.

People in the country are interested in each other's doings, and the people mentioned as a rule are of the substantial class, but very few of them have their names in the newspapers in connection with scandal or divorce.

But to one who does not know country life these personal mentions sound funny.

These country papers must be true to country life, of which they are an important part, if they are to live and do work of the highest value. Their continued effort in behalf of community betterment is of more worth to the nation than all the efforts of the big city papers that are devoted to the building up of great cities. Some has said, "God made the country and man made the town," and if that be true, then God must certainly look kindly on the country papers which are devoted to the work of community betterment in the country and the small towns. —News, Ellsworth, Minn.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Shaggy-headed urchins from the gardens of Japan
Now are down our autumn pathways in a rough-and-tumble playing.—
Motley little rioters with caps and brooms and banners swaying
On the blustery weirs and hills, a raga-muffin clan!
—Thomas Walsh.

Make Your Vacation Pay

Costs money to take a vacation these days. Lots of it. Instead of going away and blowing your wad, why not fix up that home of yours? You can kill two birds with one stone—save money and have new "insides" in your house by finishing your walls with Hockaday's INTERIO, the only really washable wall finish.

Yessir! INTERIO is so easy to apply a child can do it—always successfully. And once on, "the war is over." No more re-decorating. Some walls finished with INTERIO ten years ago still look too good to re-new. Just flow it on—two coats. It goes 30% farther and saves 30% of labor. And there isn't any kind of a mark that doesn't wash off completely. No priming or sizing. Can't peel, chalk or lime burn. 16 beautiful colors.

Why not make it an "INTERIO" vacation this year and be dollars to the good.

Let us "show you" or recommend a painter if your job is too large to do yourself.

A Bit of News and Touch of Sentiment

Anna Fecher Submits Newspaper "Copy" Worthy of Persons Considerably Her Senior

Anna Fecher, whose home it at 416 Ridge avenue, Wilmette, and who is a 14-year-old school girl, is the author of the accompanying interesting bit of news and attached sentiment. She gets a "by-line."

Title—"Our Field Nurse on a Vacation."

By Anna Fecher

Miss Cora Queen, the nurse of the Babies Health Center of Gross Point is spending a two-weeks' vacation in Chicago with her sister, Mrs. Worcester.

Please let me ask if anyone in Wilmette is not yet acquainted with the Gross Point Health Center, for if there should happen to be, I advise you to lose no time in getting acquainted with it. The nurse, Miss Queen, is certainly a person of intelligence. She takes a great interest in all the people of the community; she makes no exceptions and is especially interested in babies and school children. She is also in charge of Health Crusading work of which most all school children are members.

We are merry little Health Crusaders,

Fat and bold and sturdy,

We are always kind and cheerful,
Our faces are never dirty!"

"Your name signed to an advertisement, should carry conviction to the mind of the reader, because your reputation for good business judgment would not permit you to spend your money to advertise anything that was not thoroughly good."

O. K. EITHER WAY

No matter which way the political toad jumps in November, the Salvation Army is assured of a friend in the White House. Since their nomination, the two leading candidates have given utterance to the following endorsements of the Salvation Army:

Governor Cox: "I have the greatest interest in the work of the Salvation Army, and thoroughly appreciate the good it has done."

Senator Harding: "Every city is better and happier as a result of the wonderful unselfish work of the Salvation Army."
