

A. C. WOLFF STANDS HIGH IN RANKS OF NEW TRIER LEADERS

A. C. Wolff, proprietor of a sheet metal and furnace business at 3 Electric place, Wilmette, is an example of a virile citizen a community can ill afford to be without. Mr. Wolff became a Wilmette resident as a worker in the shops of the Hubble and Jenkins tinshop at 629 West Railroad avenue. In 1916 he took over the business establishing the concern under the present name. The first location of the business was in a small frame building at 629 West Railroad avenue, gradual progress followed in which the business was next housed at 1168 Wilmette avenue, later at 1124 Central avenue, and yet later at 615 West Railroad avenue.

In March of 1920 a tornado practically demolished the West Railroad avenue structure and the business was shifted to 3 Electric place. Prior to this time Mr. Wolff constructed spacious work shops and warehouse at the rear of 1124 Greenleaf avenue.

Mr. Wolff is a man of varied interests and activities. He is fire marshal for the village of Wilmette. Prior to his election to that office he was a member of the Wilmette volunteer fire department, starting as a pipeman and steadily advancing to the position of supreme command.

Mr. Wolff has been identified with the New Trier Commercial association uninterruptedly since its organization and is at present a director of the association and members of the Membership committee. He is assuming active part in the arrangements for New Trier Day, his services being particularly desirable in view of his previous experience in contributing to the success of township holidays.

STEINKAMP & CO., IS HEADQUARTERS FOR DUNHILL PIPE

Tobaccos suited to the taste of the most discriminating smokers have been brought to the north shore by Steinkamp & Co., located at 624 1/2 Davis street, Evanston.

Gratifying to the golfer who draws on the briar and he "tees off and follows the ball" all over the course, is the happy information that at Steinkamp's may be had the famous Dunhill imported pipe. The Dunhill known to every fraternal man the country over and to particular pipe smokers in every section of the so-called civilized world, is manufactured in London, England. It is of the briar root found in Calabria on "the toe of Italy," and centuries old. Steinkamp enjoys the exclusive sale of the Dunhill pipe in the territory north of Evanston to the state line.

It may be said, also, that Steinkamp's is headquarters for the highest grade pipe mixtures on the tobacco markets. The best line of Havana goods and cigarettes of the best possible grade are in stock.

Steinkamp, proprietor, is reputed a tobaccoist of the first order. He talks tobaccos with the knowledge of a connoisseur. He has had a score of years' experience in the tobacco line. He has been established on the north shore for six months.

CELLINI SHOP IS MECCA OF LOVERS OF THE ARTISTIC

Those of us who have had the opportunity of wandering through the art galleries and shops of Europe, have been charmed by the work of the craftsmen of the old world.

A visit to the Cellini Shop in Evanston will remind one of these delightful shops in Europe. Here one may find examples of hand craft, especially appropriate for home adornment and for the pleasing purposes of personal giving.

In their own workroom the young men who conduct the Cellini Shop, create distinctive jewelry. Their productions are accepted as among the best in execution and design.

The efforts of these young men to encourage American craftsmen and their interest in home decoration is gratifying, and the attractiveness of their shop is noteworthy.

HOLD A. A. U. CONTEST UNDER K. OF C. AUSPICES

The Knights of Columbus who won national-wide fame for their welfare and athletic work among the Yanks in France have taken over the administration of the Central association of the A. A. U. senior track and field meet, which will be held at Stagg field, Chicago, August 28, starting at 2:15 p. m.

Special interest attaches to the two "Casey" contests, the 100-yard dash and the mile relay; since both these events will be suburban councils versus the city. Knights of Chicago and neighboring sections are deeply interested in the efforts to organize representation in these events. The official A. A. U. championship program of twenty events also will be run off and there will be an exhibition wrestling match which will be refereed by Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion.

WINNETKA WOMAN TALKS TO JUSTICE, CONTINUE CASE

Because of her convincing argument Mrs. J. W. Prindville, 390 Chestnut street, Winnetka, won a continuance of her case Wednesday when she appeared before Justice D. M. Mickey on a charge of driving her car at 29 miles an hour.

Mrs. Prindville stated that the speedometer on her car registered only 24 miles an hour and so convincing was her story that the case was continued until next Tuesday to permit ample time to have the speedometer tested.

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

Six years of successful business and hundreds of satisfied and loyal customers is evidence of the high character of the William Schneider Grocery and Market at 346-348 Park avenue, Glencoe. William Schneider, proprietor, has been sole owner of the business for the past two years. Previous to that time the establishment bore the title Schneider Brothers. The firm specializes in high grade groceries and meats and is conducted on a basis in keeping with the excellent character of the community.

SHOWS SILVER UNFIT MONETARY STANDARD

Commerce Monthly Discusses Metal Situation in the United States

The unfitness of silver as a monetary standard has again been demonstrated by the recent unprecedented movements in the price of that metal, says an article on "The Silver Situation," in the August issue of the Commerce Monthly, published by the National Bank of Commerce in New York.

In some countries, the article continues, the high price of silver led to the melting and sale of hoards of silver accumulated during the war and even to the melting and sale of coins still in circulation. Some countries in order to retain their small change were forced to lessen the amount of silver in their subsidiary coinage or to substitute coins of base metal for silver. As a result of these developments, the demand for the metal coinage purposes slackened, and today the dependence of the world on silver for coins is less widespread than it was.

The bank emphasizes as an important factor in the high price of silver the decline in production, particularly in Mexico, where, largely because of political disturbances, the output fell from 71,000,000 ounces in 1913 to 28,000,000 ounces in 1914, only to fluctuate between the latter figure and 63,000,000 ounces in 1914. This is evidence, the bank says, that the mines in Mexico are becoming naturally less productive, and "there is every reason to believe that the Mexican output, once the political atmosphere has cleared, will be at least as large as before."

BANK DEPOSITORS AND AUTOS

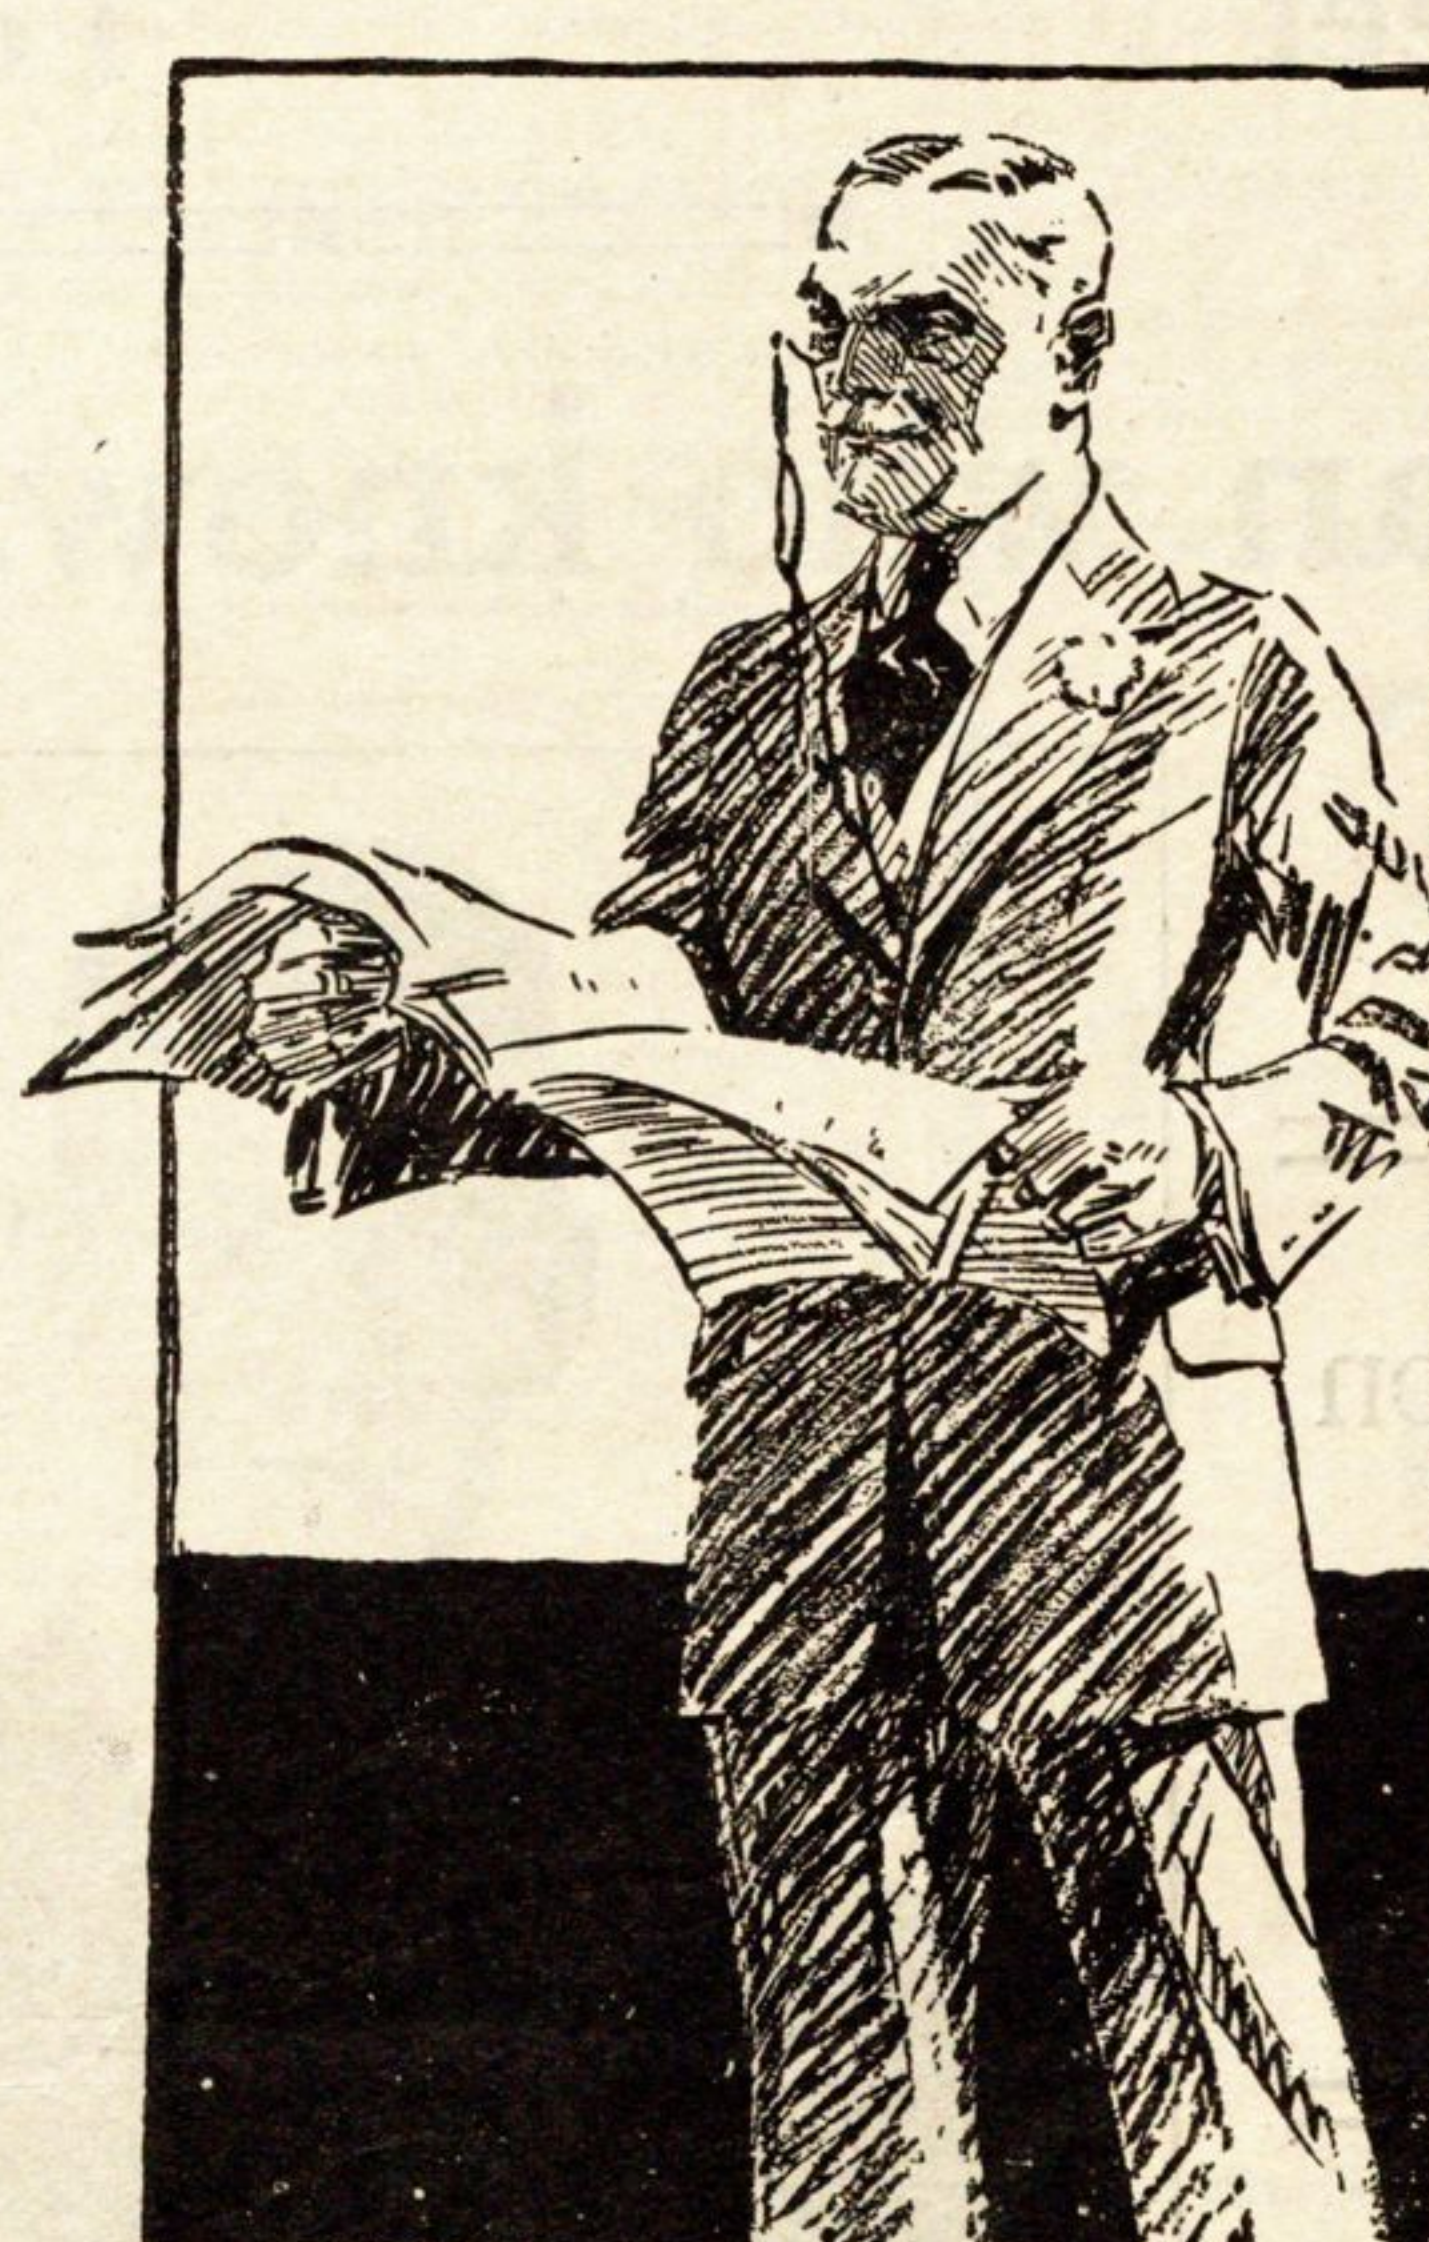

The 20,000,000 depositors in national banks in the United States will exceed the number of owners of automobiles, but the disparity is rapidly growing less.—Albany Journal.
