

WILLIAM AITKEN IS THE HOME-BUILDER OF THE NORTH SHORE

William Aitken has come to be known as the home builder of the north shore, and quite popularly so. Fifteen years of experience in building substantial and, withal, artistically designed residences, is Mr. Aitken's best advertising appeal to the prospective home-owner. Mr. Aitken ranks with the comparatively few architects and builders who combine utility of construction and the artistic element in home building. He possesses high ideals as to home building and real estate improvement. His houses are of the life-long type. Through his efforts many sections of the north shore that were practically a wilderness have been transformed into beautiful residence neighborhoods.

An example of the above statement may be found in fourteen attractive homes on Foxdale avenue, all designed and built by Mr. Aitken. Again there are eleven beautiful homes on Scott avenue bearing the stamp of quality always found in Aitken construction.

Mr. Aitken has never had a lien proceeding against any of the buildings he has constructed. That, in itself is ample evidence of the quality of workmanship and the entirely honest methods employed in his offices.

Mr. Aitken has not merely built houses. He has rendered a distinct service to Winnetka, Hubbard Woods and the entire north shore. He has brought into this vicinity householders exemplifying the finest type of American citizenship, the substantial, diligent workers and homeowners, who live at home and buy at home, whose interests are centered, in the main, in the welfare of their families and thus the communities in which they reside.

MORE TO WORRY ABOUT
One safe bet we have to make is that William J. Bryan will not visit the White House during the next four years.—Columbia Record.

Mr. McAdoo announces that he is "eternally grateful to his splendid friends." But he does not say which group, those who voted for him or those who voted as he said he wanted them to vote.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Make Money
at Home

EVERY DAY women are putting money in their pockets by refinishing their walls with Hockaday's Interio.

It's so easy to use that a child can do it, and the results are simply wonderful. You get a hard, beautiful surface that can be washed any number of times without harm. Never chalks, peels or lime burns, and will last indefinitely.

goes 30% farther and takes 30% less time to apply. Just flow on two coats---no sizing or priming. Solves all your wall problems for all time and cuts upkeep in half.

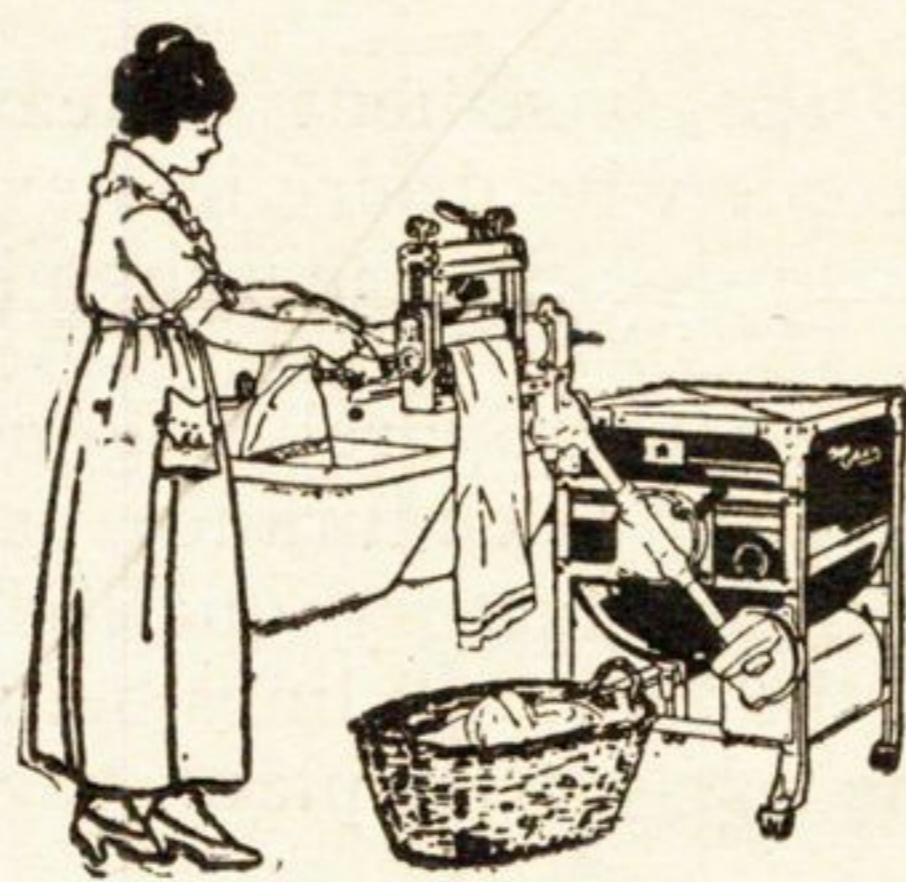

Let us demonstrate Hockaday's Interio and refer you to satisfied users. If your job is too extensive to do yourself, we will recommend a good painter.
