

Activities of North Shore Clubs

by Ruth Risley

It was interesting to glance about the audience on Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the Wilmette Woman's club, and discover just how many former students at Northwestern University, as well as old friends, to say nothing of a former classmate, Mrs. Minnie Starr-Granger Goodwin, had ventured forth to hear Professor Walter Dill Scott, now president of Northwestern University, give his address on "Handling Men." Perhaps it may interest all of us to know that the aforementioned Mrs. Goodwin was a member of the same spelling class as "dear old Walter Dill," a name attached to him by his former pupils and the alumnae way back in the good old school days down in the southern part of the state. Needless to say, President Scott proved to be just as interesting and clever as we all expected, and when he insisted that his own address be interrupted long enough to report the result of the election of the nominating committee for the spring election, there was much merriment. Mr. Scott said in part: "One interpretation of the University stands out clear and prominently, namely, that of service in some phase or in some form. I am convinced that no interpretation is adequate except that of service, and service considered in its broadest and noblest implication."

The nominating committee appointed for the April election of officers for the ensuing year includes Mesdames Walter L. Lawrence, Wallace W. Kerr, J. Nye Macalister, Myron H. West and Samuel H. Vowell.

"American Ideals in American Letters," will be the subject of an address by Franklyn Bliss Snyder on Thursday afternoon, February 17, before the members of the Woman's Library club of Glencoe. Mrs. Orville Thompson, soprano, will render a group of songs.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has a slogan:

"Every club a training camp for citizenship."

Mrs. Pennybacker has been putting in her time studying citizenship and Americanization. She says that she finds fault, not with women alone, but with America—she says the same thing is the matter with both; no ritual in the national life.

Voting, says Mrs. Pennybacker, should become a part of a woman's instinctive knowledge toward the right—and any woman who does not vote, or who does not take a first-hand interest in voting is a traitor to her country.

Mrs. Pennybacker has mapped out a course of study which she hopes to install in every woman's club throughout the Union.

The course embraces economics, history, government, and not least of these, duty to the foreign-born. In fact, this last is Mrs. Pennybacker's greatest interest.

Mrs. Pennybacker would have a club woman at every naturalization ceremony. She says that the alien who becomes a citizen should feel the dignity no less than the knights of old, who prepared for the rites of knighthood by days of fasting and prayer.

She says that all traditions should be clung to by women, in particular, as it is through the women of the land that beauty of the home becomes beauty of the state.

The Chicago Alumnae club of the Pi Beta Phi sorority will give a card party on Saturday of this week at 2:30 o'clock at the Union League club. The proceeds will go toward the maintenance of the settlement school established by the sorority some years ago in the Tennessee mountains.

March 8 to April 5 at the Art institute, in conjunction with the showing of architecture and applied arts. The designs will be selected from entries received in the competition offered by the Woman's National Farm and Garden association to students and artists throughout the country.

"On the Trail of Our Earliest Ancestors" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Professor James A. Breasted of the University of Chicago on Thursday afternoon, February 24, at the Winnetka Woman's club. Prof. Breasted tells an unusually interesting story of his experiences in the different countries where his work has led him and especially in Mesopotamia and in Egypt.

Mrs. Lois Rawll will entertain the members of her bridge club at dinner this evening at her home, 1314 Oak avenue, Evanston.

Don't Forget to Replace the Receiver

Telephone users are urged to replace the receiver promptly at the end of every conversation.

If the receiver is left off the hook, either intentionally or accidentally, it completely cuts off your telephone from every other, and requires the operators to report to persons calling that your telephone is out of service.

By replacing the receiver on the hook at the end of each telephone talk, you keep your telephone door open and assist in maintaining good service.
