Not Curative

There are arguments to be brought in favor of the expulsion of I. W. W. agents from a town in which they have sought to develop trouble, but it is not the ideal way of dealing with a vexing problem. It is no real solution, because it simply transfers the scene of their activity to another center. It may contribute a little to the inconvenience of their work to send delegations in different directions, but that there will be convergence may be accepted as a certainty. The deportation of trouble makers of another nationality is both effective and just, provided it is followed by a sufficient watchfulness over passengers on incoming steamers to prevent their return. But some of the radicals are, unfortunately, American citizens, legally, if not in their loyalty, and cannot be so disposed of. A general policy of providing escort beyond a ten mile boundary, might discourage I. W. W. activity, but incidental and scattered "prosecutions" give, at best, only temporary relief. It is not curative.

Finds Movies Popular House Party Feature

Sidney Spiegel Launches Out in Exhibiting Business Providing Films for Private Entertainments

Enjoy the "movies" right in your own home in the parlor, or, in the instance of torrid evenings, on the front lawn or in the gardens. "Motion pictures, it would appear, have become a very prominent feature of entertainment at house parties and lawn fetes," says Sidney Spiegel, New Trier High school youth and former manager of Community House Pictures at Winnetka, who has launched out in the exhibiting business for himself and is already engaged in providing entertainment at private parties and social gatherings. He is to furnish weekly film programs for the Northmoor Country Club. "The Cabinet of Dr. Calgari", one of the late releases, was shown by Spiegel this week at a private entertainment.

AID INFANT WELFARE

Infant Welfare was the beneficiary of the proceeds of a lemonade and cake stand conducted by the Tatapochoon Camp Fire Girls recently on Field Day at New Trier High school grounds. The net proceeds totaled $30. The booth was in charge of fourteen girls graduating from the eighth grade this spring. Other organizations among the young people which have contributed to Infant Welfare are "The Twigs" and the Philetia society of the Wilmette Methodist church.

Rents Are Still Up

and about the only way for a family to get just what they want is to build their own home.

We are possibly one of the largest supply houses on the North Shore, and there is nothing that is needed, from foundation to roof that we cannot supply,

Now is the time to build, when weather is advantageous, and prices are the lowest they have been for sometime.

It has been adapted and approved by leading builders, architects and engineers in the United States. It is not an experiment, but is a practical, scientific product invented by a practical builder to meet all requirements at a large saving of material and labor.

Distinctive Advantages of "Ex - Wo" Expanded Wood Lath

EX-WO is so designed that it is a perfect base for all plastic coverings for either inside or outside work; for walls, ceilings, outside coverings and wherever lath is required. It may be applied on exterior work direct to the studding without the use of sheeting; it practically forms a concrete or stucco slab.

If used on sheeting or covering of old houses it removes the necessity of papering or furring. The furring is part of the lath itself.

It is so constructed that it adds the greatest strength to the building. The wood of the lath is so cut and distributed that it cannot buckle.

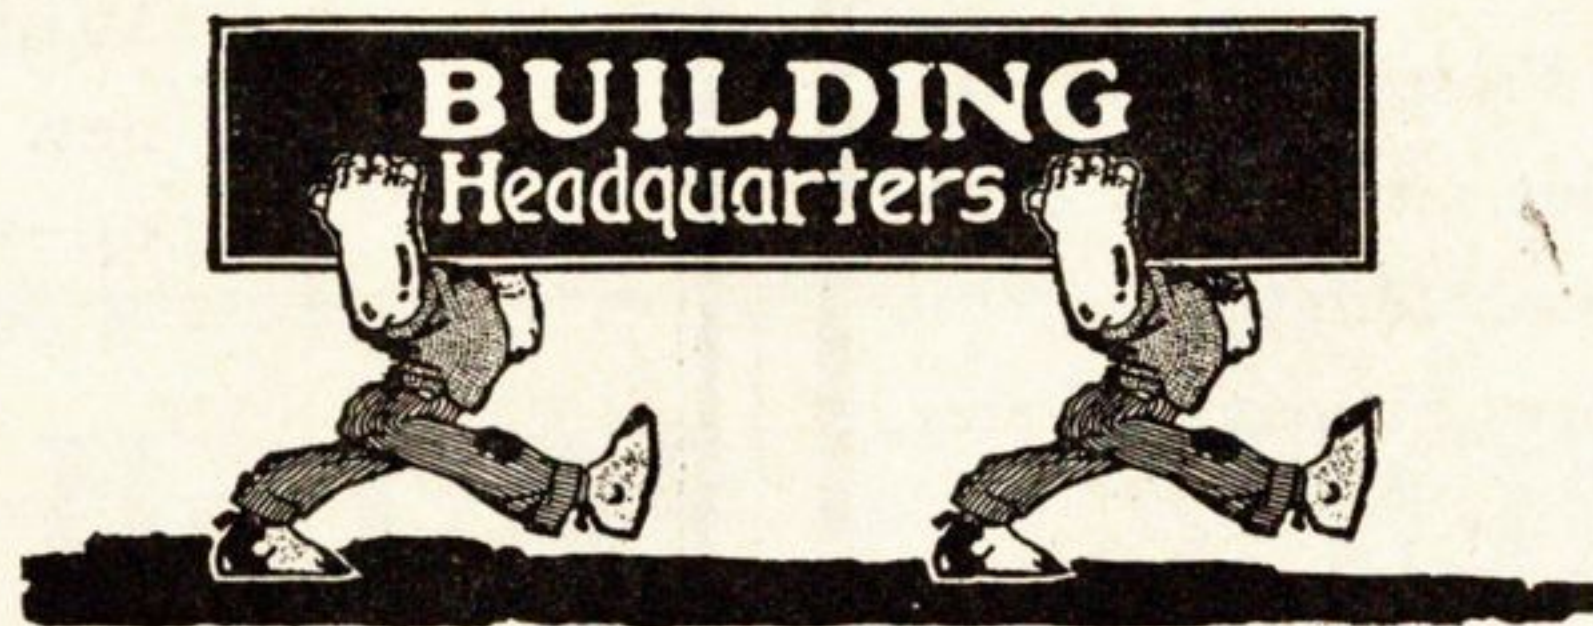

It may be applied to either straight or circular surfaces, shaped around corners and angles and meets every requirement for interior or exterior work.

It saves plaster. There is no clinching of plaster or plastic covering back of the lath. A careless workman cannot waste plaster.

Being made of wood there is no oxidation of the body of the lath with subsequent expansion and contraction and deterioration.

It is the greatest soundproof material you can use and adds warmth.

Phone us and we will have our representative call on you with samples and explain to you more fully the advantages of EX-WO over ordinary wood lath or metal lath construction.
