

NEED SUNDAY OFF TO KEEP FIT--EDDINGTON

North Shore Realtor Quotes Old Adage as Argument in Support of Sunday Closing of Real Estate Offices

NEED A DAY OF LEISURE

Declares North Shore Real Estate Board was Organized to Elevate Plane of Profession

Editor's note: The accompanying article is the second of a series of special articles to appear in succeeding issues of this paper under the names of prominent north shore realtors affiliated with the North Shore Real Estate board which is conducting a township-wide campaign to bring about Sunday Closing of all real estate offices in New Trier. These articles are of interest to every resident of this village. The third of the series will appear in next week's issue of the Winnetka Talk.

Readers of this paper are invited to express, through these columns, their views on the Sunday Closing question. It is a matter that concerns every home owner who, at the present time or in the future, may have property on the selling market.

By A. R. Eddington
(of A. R. Eddington & Co.)

It has been truly and wisely said, that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy".

No matter what business a man may be engaged in, if he continually grinds, day in and day out, Sundays, nights and holidays, it will only be a matter of a short time before he will become stale and dull, and will be unable to do himself justice or give his clients or customers the proper attention they deserve.

The Real Estate business, perhaps, more than any other business, requires an enormous amount of patience and the loss of a great deal of time in trying to find the right property for the right party, and only too often do we lose the sale to some other dealer.

Must Keep Fit

We are all interested in more business and better business, but in order to accomplish these ends, we should keep fit, by getting entirely away from business at least one day a week, and that day must be Sunday, by all means the only natural day of rest. Formerly when real estate offices were opened on Sundays, we hardly had a chance to become acquainted with our families. There is, after all, something in this life besides the continual grind of business. But it is a fact nevertheless, that a few, very few dealers on the north shore have an idea that they must work 365 days in the year in order to make a living, not realizing that their supply is right here and they can find it in the days set aside for that purpose.

Need Day of Quiet

Furthermore, the home owners, although they may be ever so anxious to dispose of their property, certainly do not relish the idea of a lot of strangers trailing through their homes on this particular day when they have planned on having a day of quietness away from business and the general public with whom they have been in contact all the week.

The North Shore Real Estate board was organized principally to raise the moral standard of the profession, and to keep all the real estate offices closed on Sundays. It is evident that no other organization or set of men influence the lives of so many people and to such a degree add to their comfort and happiness as do the Realtors. We should, therefore, have the hearty co-operation of all the home owners on the north shore.

Let us all insist then, on not showing our homes on Sundays or allow them to be shown by others.

CAMPING EXPEDITION

Harrington Mitchell, Hilding Ek-lund, Everett Nelson, John McKeighan, Lester Dauber and Ellis Jones, students at New Trier High school, enjoyed a camping expedition west of the north shore over the past weekend under the guidance of Professor Hildebrand of the High school.

Plant Material becomes firmly established and starts growing as Spring opens up.

Different State Experiment Stations have proven that immediately after planting in the fall trees and shrubs begin to put out small fibrous roots.

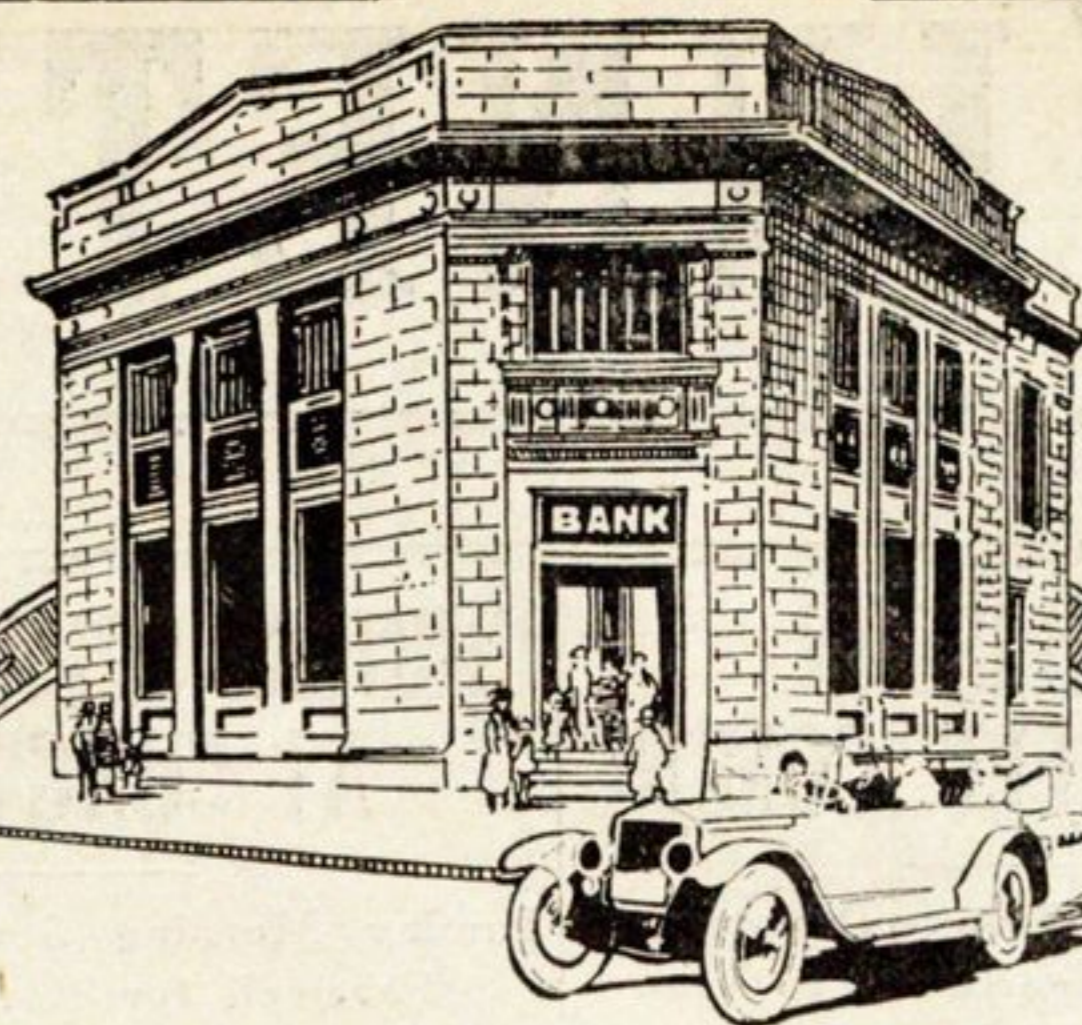

Avoid the Spring rush by planting now.

THE greatest incentive to saving money is a savings account. Start with a small sum of money, and when it becomes a goodly sized sum, you'll begin saving more money. The only way to have money is by saving it, and properly investing it. A savings account is a good initial investment.

Canned Goods To Go Higher

Investigator of Conditions Thinks Now is Good Time To Lay In Supply

After an extensive tour of eight states studying crop conditions, Granville Hunt, former chief of the canned goods division of the Federal Food Administration, believes that now is the time for all thrifty and wise housewives to lay in the winter supply of these commodities; that America is liable to suffer a dearth of canned goods, and that with the augmented demand and the limited supply the prices will naturally rise to higher levels.

"The corn packers of Iowa," declared Mr. Hunt, "are packing only 20 per cent of the normal crop. In Wisconsin where it usually takes from four to six weeks to pack the entire crop of peas, the work was done this year in ten days. This was due to the restricted average and the drought. New York packers are prepared to send out only 60 per cent of their normal shipping. So it goes. In Michigan and the upper tier of counties in Ohio, where fruits and berries are packed in great numbers, the frost nipped the crop, with the result that one can go for mile after mile without seeing trees in blossom. In one of the largest orchards of that section I saw only one cherry tree in bloom and that one of late variety.

"Minnesota will pack only 42½ per cent of its crop this year. Ohio's crop of peas and tomatoes will be approximately 45 per cent of what it was last year if present weather conditions do not reduce it to lower levels. The tomato crop of Hartford County, Maryland, will be only about 5 per cent; that is, 5 per cent available for packing. Over the entire Eastern Shore the pack will not be more than 25 or 30 per cent. The only answer, as I see it, is for the thrifty housewife to fill the pantry with such commodities as she needs to carry her family through the winter, for prices for these goods may be as high before the snow flies as they were during the war period.
