

Social Happenings in Winnetka & Hubbard Woods. by Ruth Risley

RIFLES, a one act play by Susan Glaspell, will be presented by the Winnetka Community Drama Club on Monday evening, November 7, in the Neighborhood room at Community House. As many guests as the room will accommodate have been invited by members of the club, who in this way throughout the year, hope to share their enjoyment with a widening circle of friends.

Encouraged by the success of last year's monthly programs, a committee of the Drama Club has selected the casts for a number of interesting plays to be presented during the winter months. Realizing that there are those in the community who already have shown a desire to participate in some active way in community drama, the club has formed a new department to be known as the Winnetka Community Players.

Under the guidance of the club it is hoped thus to provide an opportunity for the expression of a wide variety of dramatic talent.

The cast for Monday evening will include Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Dwight Green, Mr. Eugene Rummel, Mr. Clarence Happ, and Mr. Charles Eastman. Mrs. Taliaferro Milton is directing the play.

The unusual charm of the first lecture of Miss Myra Reynolds on "The Theater of the 18th Century", held at the Winnetka Woman's club last Thursday morning betokens a course which will be widely attended and greatly enjoyed. With authoritativeness, personal charm, and a delicate sense of humor, Miss Reynolds makes her subject most fascinating. She has generously offered to give four lectures for the regular course ticket.

The subjects for the remaining three lectures are as follows: November 10, Settings and Stage Devices of the 18th Century, illustrated by stereopticon.

November 17, Farquhar Wycherly, Congreve.

December 1, The Beggar's Opera.

Checks for the course tickets should be made payable to Mrs. E. E. Brown, 943 Oak street, Winnetka.

On Saturday afternoon last, at the hour of five, in Christ church, the marriage service for the wedding of Miss Priscilla McIlvaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown McIlvaine, to Mrs. Benjamin K. Brewster Jr., of Baltimore, was read.

Miss Madeleine L. McIlvaine attended her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Blanchard Randall, Jr., of Baltimore, Mrs. Gordon K. Gould of Riverside, Ill., Miss Elizabeth Patterson of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Marianne Wilde of Peoria.

Mr. Daniel B. Brewster served his brother as best man. The ushers were Mr. William Brown McIlvaine, Jr., brother of the bride, Mr. Janon Fisher, a cousin of the bride, Mr. Andrew Carey, Mr. George Finney, Mr. Daniel Bough, another cousin, all of Baltimore, and Mr. Daniel McDougal, who is the fiance of Miss Madeleine McIlvaine.

The bride's gown was of white satin and rose point lace worn on her mother's wedding gown, made with two trains falling from the waist. The tulle veil, edged with lace, was held in place with orange blossoms and pearls. The maid of honor wore a green satin gown with headdress of green feathers and gold band. Two of the bridesmaids wore blue satin gowns, two, yellow, with feathers the color of the gowns attached to silver bands. All carried small chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the residence of the bride's parents.

If you thought Hallowe'en was over Monday night, a glance into Community House Tuesday evening would have convinced you that the witches and merrymakers had not departed.

Friendship Circle had its Hallowe'en party, a larger, happier party than ever before. Over fifty girls came, disguised as witches, ghosts, Indians, and gnomes. Crepe paper ladies came attended by dapper youths and old fashioned ladies with full skirt and trains.

There were many mysterious happenings as at all Hallowe'en parties and games for all. A peanut hunt caused a great scramble.

Perhaps the most enjoyable part of the evening was when the girls sat around a very attractive table laden with good things to eat. A flashlight was taken and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jean Stuart Ware, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edward Newell Ware of Chicago, to Mr. Charles Shelton Wright of Akron, O., Saturday evening, October 8. The service was read by the bride's father.

Miss Marion Ware, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Harold McKee of Muscatine, Ia., was matron of honor. Mrs. William Craig Ware, brother of the bride, gave her away. Mr. C. H. Wright, father of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Wright will be remembered by many as an instructor at Girton school and later at the North Shore Country Day school.

Of interest to all music lovers will be the artist series to be presented this season at the Evanston Woman's club auditorium, under the direction of Miss Mary S. Marshall. The musical is open to every member of the club, and guests will be admitted upon payment of the regular guest fee.

The Campus Players at Northwestern university will present "Seven Keys to Baldpate", George M. Cohan's mystery play, at New Trier auditorium, December 2 and 3. Mr. Gregory as you all know directed Henry Miller in "Her Husband's Wife", and discovered Frances Starr, in "Daddy Long Legs" and Laurette Taylor in "Peg O' my Hearth".

Dale Smith, a graduate of New Trier High school is managing the production.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Thompson of 1067 Oak street, have as their guests, Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Samuel H. Joekel and her nieces, Mrs. Harold H. Engsburg and Miss Mildren Joekel, Joan Joekel and Harold Engsburg, Jr., of Lake Mills, Wis., who are here to attend the marriage of their cousin, Miss Winifred Reinboth, of Wilmette, to Mr. Harold L. Garwood of Evanston, which takes place this evening. Annette Thompson, Joan Joekel and Harold Engsburg will be in the bridal party.

Moody, who was a delegate to the State Convention, early in October, will give a report of the meetings, the banquet, the sight-seeing trips and the reception in the Governor's Mansion, when the white ribbon was placed upon Mrs. Small and she became a member of the Springfield W. C. T. U. the Springfield W. C. T. U.
