The Graceful Woman

"I am fully convinced that there is no necessity of the fallen arches and the weak feet that so deform many women of the present time," says Louis Chalif, exponent of the classical dance.

"In the last few years since young women have taken to classical dancing, their feet have improved greatly; and also since women have taken to walking, golfing, tennis and other sports the improvement has been marked. The result is that a woman may wear her sport shoe, her walking shoe and her evening shoe all with equal comfort and that is because she has developed a strong foot.

"The woman who sits the greater part of the day does not develop the muscles of the feet and so she has, not the fallen arch, but the weak feet. The woman who is almost constantly on her feet has not developed sufficient strength to support the weight of her body, so she has a 'fallen arch.' Immediately she resorts to artificial supports. Ill-fitting shoes contribute to the muscular mal-conditions of the feet, for the nerves of the foot are cramped and the free circulation of blood interfered with.

"We need, and we need badly, pleasing methods of exercising the feet. The best exercise that can be had for the feet is the classic dancing, because I have seen hundreds of poor, weak feet rejuvenated through this exercise. The foot strength and comfort which are essential to the graceful woman—and to every woman's happiness!—are obtained by wearing Cantilever Shoes, whose flexible arches (not stiff as in ordinary shoes) permit the muscles to exercise freely while walking. Shaped like the foot, there is no pressure on the nerves, no restriction of the circulation. The flexible arch supports a weak foot while natural exercise is strengthening it.

You walk gracefully in Cantilever Shoes. You feel well and you look well. The style is correct for semidress and daytime wear. Sold on the North Shore only by the
